Court financing to be discussed

By PAM WATT
Romulus officials are expected to meet within the week with representatives of the building authority and architects to discuss financing the proposed 34th District courthouse.

City council members also will get a closer view at the preliminary plan concept, which was presented at Thursday's meeting by the architectural firm of Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates of Livonia.

The building authority is waiting for the council's okay so that it can proceed to phase two of the plans, but the council merely voted to set another meeting to discuss financial arrangements as well as several questions members have on the plans.

The 34th District encompasses the cities of Belleville and Romulus and the townships of Sumpter, Van Buren and Huron.

According to the proposed plans, the courthouse would be a two-level, 16,420 square-foot structure with a 125-car parking lot.

The building will contain two courtrooms, two judicial chambers, two judicial secretary rooms, a legal library, two jury rooms, two attorney counsel areas and two security rooms with lavatories, plus departments for administrator-violations and criminal functions (three rooms), probation (seven rooms), public facilities (four rooms), employees' facilities (four rooms) and service facilities (six rooms.)

The edifice, to be included in the Romulus Municipal Complex which already houses the city hall and library, will be located on the southeast corner of S. Wayne and Goddard roads.

The new building would replace the present court headquarters in the former Hale Elementary School, 30240 Eureka Rd.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry questioned 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone on the necessity of two courtrooms, since Judge Stone is the only judge for the district.

The judge explained that the decision was made after considering the development of the city and 34th district, plus bills now pending in the legislature which would increase the district to include another judge.

A bill, Judge Stone reported, is still pending in the Senate Appropriations Committee, and although he said he has tried to discourage its approval, "we don't know what will happen in the next two years."

Representatives of the Romulus Building Authority, operator of the municipal complex, explained that a question still remains on financing. They will need either council appropriation for $623,000 or its approval for a bond issue in that amount. It was explained that $250,000 still remains from the construction of the present municipal complex.

Robbers frighten elderly residents

Elderly Romulus residents have locked their doors and barred their windows in fear in recent weeks as a series of particularly vicious armed robberies — all with senior citizens as the victims — has swept the city.

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives say at least six elderly men and women have been robbed since June 13. On several occasions, the victims have been beaten.

and sometimes armed, smash a window or door, climb in, and while one of the intruders holds the victim, the other ransacks the house.

"All of the victims have been elderly retired persons," Robertson said. "In most cases they're too helpless to defend themselves and too frightened to give an accurate description. The thieves have always worn masks anyway."

Detectives feel, however, that they may have gotten a break in the case after the most recent robbery.

"The last man that got robbed may have injured one of the thieves when he struck him in the face with a glass," Robertson said. "We think the guy may need medical treatment."

The incident occurred Tuesday night at the south Wayne Road home of a retiree who police declined to identify.

The victim told police he was in his backyard watching television and decided to go into the house for a glass of iced tea.

Who pays for house?

City sent razing notice to wrong person

The City of Romulus must decide by Tuesday night what to do about a house it tore down without informing the owner he had a chance to fix it up.

Melvin Z. Wilson of 11901 Hunt St. charged at Thursday's council meeting that he has been given the run-around by the city for more than a month, although he has been "trying vigorously to work with the city."

The city, however, claims its hands are tied because its insurance company denies the liability.

According to Wilson, his children found the home, located at 11905 Wahrman St. "in a pile of trash" on June 13 as they were driving in the neighborhood. The city had demolished the home, contents and all.

Wilson said he never received the normal notice sent out to homeowners warning them their homes are in trouble unless they are fixed up. According to Wilson, he intended to make whatever repairs were necessary, but he did not expect to have to fix it up without notice from the city.

"It is immaterial to me if the city is covered with the insurance company," he told the council last week.

But he also maintains he would rather not sue the city if it can be avoided, since he intends to live here.

Wilson feels the city should give him $7,000 for the home and the contents which were also destroyed when the house was razed.

The city attorney has promised to make a legal recommendation at Tuesday's meeting concerning what the city should do if the insurance company won't cover it.

Citizens gripe about garbage

Alleged garbage problems caused a minor stink at last week's Romulus City Council meeting, but city officials are hoping the problems which have been plaguing them have finally been remedied.

The issue was brought up Thursday night by Council President Jimmie C. Raspberry, who proposed a communication be sent to the city's trash collector, American Rubbish Disposal of Plymouth Township, as a "protest for more positive approach."

According to Raspberry, residents have been complaining about their garbage remaining out all night and the resulting odors in the hot weather, along with alleged mishandling of the garbage cans.

Councilman Brooker R. Edwards, voiced complaints about the pickups in the Westvale, Bibbins, Ellenview and Castle Drive area, also charging that he had been told by dissatisfied customers that the company's receptionist was getting nasty when residents called in to complain.

Edwards said he felt flyers should be sent out to the residents, informing them of the pickup days, but City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar informed the council that Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael had already directed the contractor to deliver information sheets to the residents.

According to the mayor, the collection days had been changed, and the proper notice printed in the Romulus Roman. A number of city residents, however, had not seen the change of collection notice.

The mayor told the council he had received "quite a few" complaints on Wednesday, but that almost everything had been cleared up by the next day.

The council adopted a resolution requesting city hall document all complaints pertaining to garbage.

Council adopted a resolution requiring that flyers be sent to the homes informing the residents of the actual pickup days. Mayor Carmichael reported Monday the flyers already had been sent out and that he had not received one complaint personally that day.

Carriers collect

The carrier boy who delivers this newspaper to your door, will be calling to collect 50 cents for the month of July. This will include payment for the issue of July 26. If your paper was started late in the month, he will collect a smaller amount.

Your carriers will appreciate prompt payment. If you have any suggestions on how he can improve his service to you, he invites your suggestions.

DANCING EXHIBITION — Ed Parker and Helen Taras of Dearborn demonstrate a few dance steps for the seniors during last week's meeting. The couple donated its time to give the seniors a little exhibition.

'What they want is what they get'

Watching a tango exhibition may not be the type of entertainment everyone would have in mind for a senior citizens club, but in Romulus it's nothing unusual.

Ever since the city's Department of Parks and Recreation took over the floundering club last year, an increasing amount of programs have been arranged, always with an eye toward meeting the particular interests of the seniors.

What they want is what they get, according to Frank Tolish, director of the department.

If they want to see a dance exhibition, like the one they witnessed July 11 at their weekly get-together, then the department does its best to arrange it.

The club and its 150 members owe a lot to a bustling little lady named Catherine Pritula, who volunteered to accept responsibility for the group when the parks department took it over.

Prior to last October, when members had been meeting at private homes, the club boasted about 20-25 faithfuls.

It has since enticed about 150 senior citizens to leave their comfortable homes and get into an atmosphere of friendship and learning.

FIDDLING AWAY — Ernest Block sets the toes tapping at the Romulus Senior Citizens Club meeting. Block, 76, of 14724 Middlebelt, Romulus, has been playing the fiddle since he was 13. His rendition of "Turkey in the Straw" is a popular one with the seniors.

Romulus buys DPW building

The City of Romulus has a new Department of Public Works Building.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar completed the actual purchase on Friday, following council authorization the night before at the city council meeting.

The city put down $72,500 on the 40,000-square-foot structure located at 34100 Goddard Rd.

Financial arrangements include an agreement to pay off the remaining sum — $400,000 — within 10 years with an interest rate not to exceed 5.5 per cent per year.

A $4,341.20 first monthly installment payment also was made by the city.

DPW Director William Pritula termed the action "fantastic," and said the department would probably be moving in within two to three months.

His men, he said, would have to revamp the inside before the department can move in. The work would include petitioning out sections of the 360-foot-long building for the various areas, adding a six-inch water main a mechanics department, washrack area for the equipment and parts storage inventory area.

The facility is located on a 12-acre parcel included in the purchase. The present DPW headquarters are at 36515 Bibbins St., a one-story structure which has been in use since the early 1960's.

The DPW quarters originally were located at the old township hall at Sterling Street and Goddard Rd. The department, initiated in the early 1950's, was manned by a five-member crew.

Since then, the DPW has grown to a staff of 40. Required equipment to maintain operations has more than doubled since May, 1970, when the community of Romulus became a city.

Expressway marks 30th year -- under repair

Thirty years ago, in the summer of '42, Michigan entered the freeway era. The Willow Run Expressway providing access to the sprawling Ford Motor Co. bomber plant near Ypsilanti was opened to traffic.

Work was under way on the adjoining Detroit Industrial Expressway, Michigan's first limited access facility with no grade-level intersections and no traffic lights to slow the movement of traffic.

Together, they enabled scores of thousands of war plant workers to drive easily from their homes in Detroit to Ford's River Rouge industrial complex and to the bomber plant farther west.

Millions of cars and trucks have traveled literally billions of miles over the four-lane roadway in the three decades since then.

Now, the state is tearing up the aging Willow Run Expressway and building a new one to modern freeway standards.

C. A. Hull Co., Inc., of Walled Lake and Cooke

Contracting Co. of Detroit began work earlier this month on an $8.84 million contract to reconstruct the freeway from Haggerty Road east to Ozga Road in Romulus and build part of the big interchange with the new I-275 Freeway, which will provide a western by-pass of Detroit.

Bids are scheduled to be taken this fall for similar reconstruction west to Rawsonville Road at the Wayne-Washtenaw county line. Work on the stretch from Rawsonville Road west to the junction with US-12 is in the design stage.

The reconstructed freeway will be six lanes wide, instead of four, and will involve some re-alignment along newly acquired right-of-way adjoining the existing roadway on the north.

Like all modern freeways, it also will incorporate steel reinforcement. The existing facility was built at the outset of World War II when all available steel was channeled to war-time production.

Absence of steel mesh is the main reason some sections of the Willow Run Expressway required re-surfacing.

"Despite this, the Willow Run Expressway performed its wartime duty with great effectiveness and has served Michigan well in the intervening years," said State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth.

"Its construction in less than a year will always stand high among the achievements of Michigan's road-builders and state highway engineers," he said.

Today, both the Willow Run and Detroit Industrial freeways are part of I-94 Freeway, which runs from Port Huron west to the Indiana border at New Buffalo and on to Billings, Mont.

Work on the giant project began in the fall of 1941. With the nation on the verge of war, the Willow Run bomber plant began to rise from the flat farmland east of northwest of Belleville.

It was to employ a civilian army of more than 42,000 men and women in the production of B-24 Liberator bombers for the Army Air Force.

For defense purposes, the plant was located in the quiet countryside 20 miles from Detroit, the only large source of skilled labor. A major new highway was needed to enable the workers to go back and forth to their jobs and to accommodate the stream of materials and supplies that would be moving in and out of the plant.

Under the leadership of Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy, the State Highway Department quickly mustered its resources with a gusto that matched the nation's all-out war effort. Nearly three-fourths of the department's engineering personnel were assigned to the Detroit metropolitan area.

Roadbuilding firms moved in heavy equipment from every part of the state, usually starting work the day after contracts were awarded. Seven days a week, 24 hours a day, bulldozers moved dirt in every direction, shaping the earth for bridges and roadways. Pavers followed grading machinery by minutes.

By Christmas, the first two-lane roadway was opened around the plant. A pair of tri-level grade separations, two of the first in the country, were built to make it possible for workers to leave the main roads and drive directly into their parking lots.

All the while, work was progressing on the $100 million bomber plant, which was to be the world's largest industrial plant under one roof and contribute substantially to Michigan's wartime role as the "Arsenal of Democracy."

The spectacle was such that thousands of sightseers, crowded into the area for a look at the mass of activities. Traffic finally had to be limited to plant and construction workers. Other motorists were diverted to different routes.

The 14-mile Willow Run Expressway and access system was dedicated on Sept. 12, 1942, only 11 months after it was begun. Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Henry and Edsel Ford, Army generals, Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner and a host of other dignitaries joined in the dedication ceremonies.

The bomber plant by then was moving into full production. Before it was shut down in mid-1945, it would turn out 8,685 bombers, more than any other aircraft plant in the nation.

"We can always take great pride, however, in that first expressway and what it represented — a major contribution to the war effort, an engineering milestone and a forerunner of the great freeway transportation system that has meant so much to the development of Michigan and the rest of the nation."

76 burglaries solved?

Police believe one man responsible

A Romulus man awaiting sentencing in Wayne County Circuit Court on a larceny charge is believed to be responsible for at least 76 burglaries in the city within the past year.

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives said they have cleaned up at least that many break-ins of homes and businesses since the arrest of Virgil Nelson in April.

Detectives said Nelson, 25, of 5911 Chamberlain, may have single-handedly stolen almost a half-million dollars worth of merchandise between January of 1971 and April 17 of this year.

Nelson was arrested April 27 for the alleged burglary of a home on Edmund Street, but pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of larceny in a building.

He could be sentenced to a maximum of four years in prison on the larceny charge, as opposed to a maximum of 10 years for burglary.

According to a sheriff's spokesman, a team of detectives compiled lengthy and detailed report of Nelson's activities following his arrest.

The spokesman said the team was able to pinpoint the locations of the 76 homes and businesses and trace them to Nelson, who later admitted to the break-ins.

According to detectives, there was no set pattern to the burglaries and no particular area of the city was hit harder than any other.

Nelson apparently always worked alone, detectives said, and usually gained entry to a home by breaking through a window or door.

Detectives said Nelson would often knock on the door of a home before burglarizing it and would enter if no one answered.

He often watched a home for several days before breaking in, detectives said.

So far, none of the stolen property has been recovered. Detectives say this is because the goods were "fenced," or sold within hours of their theft.

An average of $600 was taken from each of the homes burglarized, detectives said, but Nelson apparently realized little of the profits.

The items stolen included televisions, radios, stereo sets, appliances and firearms, detectives said.

Detectives said their investigation of Nelson is not complete. More burglaries allegedly committed by him may yet be solved, they said.

ROMULUS MISS CROWNED — Suzanne Kahal (right), a resident of Romulus until last year, is crowned Fiesta Queen in San Clemente, Calif. by the outgoing titleholder. As queen, the young beauty will reign over the Fiesta La Christianita, an annual festival which commemorates the first Christian baptism in California. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kahal, she lives at 26401 Bodega Lane, Mission Viejo.

Robbers frighten elderly residents

The man told police he managed to break free, and he then turned and smashed the intruder flush in the face with the drinking glass.

The would-be thief jumped through a locked screen door and escaped.

"We're fairly certain the guy was hurt because we found blood and glass in the front yard," Robertson said. "We're hoping somebody that knows something about this will come forward."

Prior to Tuesday's robbery attempt, the two bandits, who detectives believe are the same in each case, had met no resistance.

—On June 13, two men forced their way into a home at 11032 Sterling, tied the 69-year-old homeowner up and locked him in the bathroom. They then took $50 in cash, a television set and several other items.

—At 8:30 p.m. that same night, two masked men broke a picture window at a home at 36443 Ecorse Rd. While one of the men held the 97-year-old woman resident, the other threatened her with a stick and demanded her money. She gave them $900, her life savings.

—On June 28, two men climbed through a side window at 6104 S. Wayne Rd., then proceeded to bind, gag and blindfold an 83-year-old man.

before taking $200 and a shotgun.

—On June 29, two bandits kicked down the back door at 12753 Wahrman St., beat a 72-year-old woman and her daughter, 48, and then robbed them of $1,000.

—This past Monday, a 62-year-old woman told deputies she was watching television at her home at 11249 Sterling when her front door was kicked open. The woman said the lone thief shoved her onto a bed, smothered her face with a pillow and then took her purse containing $20.

"In each case, the victims were picked on because of their age and inability to defend themselves," Robertson said. "The robbers probably knew in advance everything they needed to know about the victims."

Other than their choice of victims and their method of operation, detectives say they know little about the thieves.

Police-community team needs more citizens

The Romulus Human Relations Commission and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department are searching for concerned community residents who would like to serve on a proposed Police-Community Relations Team.

Suzanne Cook, a member of the human relations group, is taking names of people who would like to be considered for a post on the team. Anyone who wants to apply should call her at 941-2359.

According to Lt. Jim Haile of the sheriff's department, the team is being formed to give residents an opportunity to express their views on law enforcement in Romulus how it can be improved and what is being done that residents would enjoy seeing expanded.

Lt. Haile said such a team also would give those in the community not serving on the group an opportunity to know which persons they can see in case they do have complaints or praise.

The sheriff's department has been working under a contract with the Romulus City Council since last year. Its city office is located in the Department of Public Works Building, 36515 Bibbins St.

At Sunday Mass

Fr. Kernosek's father marks 100th birthday

Work hard, eat good food, raise a good family and enjoy life — and you too may reach the ripe old age of 100.

This is the advice of Joseph Francis Kernosek Sr., who marked his centennial birthday Monday with a Mass of Thanksgiving, with none other than his son celebrating the Mass.

The father of the Rev. Joseph F. Kernosek Jr., pastor of St. Aloysius Church in Romulus, the spry old gentleman joined in a picnic on the parish grounds following the Mass, surrounded by his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, as well as cousins and friends.

Born in Lipnicki, Poland on July 17, 1872, the senior Kernosek worked in Bremen, Germany, as a young man, coming to America in 1895. He settled in Uniontown, Pa., beginning a 37-year mining career for the H. C. Frick Co.

On Jan. 26, 1902 he married Victoria Jellick of Lemont, Pa., and they raised nine children.

When he was dismissed from the coal mining business at the age of 65, Kernosek came to Dearborn, where he landed a job in 1940. He swept floors for the Ford Motor Co., where he worked until he was 79 years old.

He still lives in Dearborn, alone since the death of his wife in 1965. He works every day in his garden, where he raises flowers and vegetables.

Goings On Meetings

The Romulus Public Housing Commission will meet tonight (Wednesday) at the Housing Commission Building, 5907 Chamberlain St., at 6:30 p.m.

The Romulus Community Relations Commission will meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the municipal building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

The Romulus Board of Education will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the board offices, 36520 Grant Rd.

The Romulus City Council will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the municipal building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

Security prexy wins state post

Lowell L. Peacock, president of Security Bank & Trust Company, Southgate, was elected first vice president of the Michigan Bankers Association at the association's 86th annual convention on Mackinac Island.

Peacock had previously served as second vice president and chairman of Group 10, Michigan Bankers Association.

Peacock began his banking career in 1947 with the Flat Rock Savings Bank, following a three-year tour of duty with the U.S. Air Force during World War II.

He joined Security Bank in 1948, was promoted to assistant vice president in 1955 and vice president in 1956. In November, 1964, he was appointed executive vice president and on Jan. 1, 1969 he was elected president of the bank.

Court financing

(Continued from Page 1) "funds are not available from the city's general fund," and bonds would have to be floated if the project was approved.

The council had approved $7,400 for the authority to use to have the architectural firm draw up the designs.

According to Leo Kalota, building authority chairman, if the city doesn't have the funds, the cheapest way to finance the new courthouse would be through a short-term (5 to 10-year) bond issue.

Taylor resident eyes commission

Taylor City Councilman Mitchell Moran, 42, has announced his candidacy for the 26th District county commissioner seat, which includes Romulus and Huron Township.

Moran, a councilman since 1968 when Taylor was incorporated, says that the two most pressing issues at the county level are rapid transit and air pollution.

A supervisor in the component design division of the Ford Motor Company, Moran says that it is time that rapid transit plans be drawn to relieve the congestion on county highways and further that the county should take steps to stop air pollution from all industries in the area.

"The recent example, where the county is attempting to prosecute the Ford Motor Company for air pollution at Rouge, while ignoring other offenders is unjust," said Moran.

Moran, a resident of Taylor for 15 years, has served as a member on the city's Citizens Advisory Committee (1965-66) and the city planning commission (1965-67) as a Taylor Township Trustee (1967-68), and on the council from 1968 until the present.

Married, and the father of five children, Moran is a member of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority, is on the executive board of the Taylor Democrat Club, is a member of the Knights of Columbus All Saints Council and attends St. Alfred's Church in Taylor.

He served as a sergeant in the Marines during the Korean War.

Among the other problems facing the county, according to Moran, are narcotics abuse and youth problems.

"I want to run for the county commission," said Moran, "because there is much more one can accomplish as a commissioner than as a city councilman."

Showdown develops between amendments

By HARRY HOWARD, Superintendent, Wayne-Westland Community Schools

The decision of Federal Judge Stephen J. Roth to form a metropolitan school district is fast becoming a showdown between the 14th and 10th amendments of the U.S. Constitution, the latter being in regard to state's rights.

The attorney for the suburban school districts, meeting with the steering committee of superintendents, recently gave the following school codes as the type of Michigan law that will have to be circumvented if Judge Stephen J. Roth's decision is to hold upon appeal to higher courts.

These are not all inclusive but represent some of the major statutes that would have to be overridden if Judge Roth's decision is to stand.

Section 340.356 Minimum Legal Age: All persons, residents of the school district not maintaining a kindergarten, and at least five years of age on the first day of enrollment of the school year, shall have an equal right to attend school therein.

Public Act of 1955, No. 269: There have also been court cases in regard to this statute. One of those, "Residents in general," says the following: A child is entitled to the benefit of public schools in the district in which it lives, if it has gone there in good faith for purchase of acquiring a home, not for the purpose of taking advantage of school privileges. (School District No. 1 fractional of Mancelona Township vs. School District No. 1 of Custer Township)

Section 340.566 School Monies; Payment, and Use: No money raised by tax shall be used for any other purpose than that for which it was raised without the consent of a majority of the school tax electors of the district voting on the question at an annual special meeting or election...

Section 340.582, Non-resident Pupils, Tuition; per Capita Cost: The board of any district may admit to the district school non-resident pupils and shall determine the rates of tuition of such pupils and shall collect the same...

This section makes very clear that no board of education is forced to admit any non-resident student.

Section 340.589 Attendance Area: Every board is authorized to establish attendance areas within the school district.

Section 38.83: ... provided further, that any probationary teacher or a teacher not on a continuing contract shall be employed for the ensuing year unless notified at least 60 days before the close of the school year that his services will be discontinued.

Article 38.91 Continuing Tenure; Administrative Capacity; Contracts; Extra Duty for Extra Pay: After the satisfactory completion of the probationary period, a teacher shall be employed continuously by the controlling board under which the probationary period has been completed, and shall not be dismissed or demoted except as specified in this act.

There are so many contractual relationships that Judge Roth's decision would force school boards to negate, that the ensuing result would undoubtedly be enough law suits to keep the courts busy for several years.

We have definite contractual commitments to our staff. While the contracts permit us to use them in almost any situation within the school district as long as the contract language is followed, there is no provision anywhere in these contractual relationships to use these teachers in another district.

The same is true of administrative staff and all contracted staff members.

While transportation is provided for in the statute in regard to the expenditures of funds, a suit would undoubtedly be brought by citizens regarding the question of the use of school funds not voted specifically for transportation of students between districts.

The essential element in this case, however, remains the fact that Judge Roth found the Detroit schools guilty of de jure segregation. That is being appealed both to the Sixth Circuit and U.S. Supreme Courts by the parties involved, the Detroit Board of Education and the governor and attorney general of the State of Michigan.

Judge Roth has found the Detroit system guilty and has pronounced the sentence on the suburban school districts. His own words in the findings of facts and conclusions are as follows:

"It should be noted that the court has taken no proofs with respect to the establishment of the boundaries of the 86 public school districts in the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, nor on the issue of whether, with the exclusion of the City of Detroit School District, such school districts have committed acts of de jure segregation."

This reaches a new height in judicial discretion when the party who is convicted can have the sentence shared with 52 of his compatriots. I am sure you will agree that that is a new twist in the history of justice as we have traditionally known it.

If the 14 Amendment gives courts the power to abolish all state laws within a state, undoubtedly the next step will be to abolish state lines for desegregation purposes.

For example, the Washington, D.C. schools are 95 percent black and the surrounding suburban districts in Virginia and Maryland are not as segregated.

Will this be next?

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers, Inc. welcome letters from our readers. Letters must include signature — with names also typed or printed legibly — and address, which will be withheld upon request, and telephone number for our own use if necessary. If group designation is requested in signature, list of members names, addresses and telephone numbers must be included. Letters should be typed double-spaced or written clearly and should not exceed 300 words. All are subject to condensation.

Detroit taxpayer thanks Mayor Smith

To the editor:
This is a letter of thanks to all Michigan taxpayers. We are sure that thousands of Wayne County taxpayers will offer the same thanks for public performance of a high order.

The thanks we offer go to Mayor Royce Smith of Belleville, Mr. William Roskelley of Redford and Mr. Marc J. Alan of Grosse Pointe and others who contributed and thereby participated in the successful fight to block the issue of the $126 million Detroit Stadium bonds.

The attempt to load the $126 million bond issue on the overburdened taxpayers without full public disclosure of financial arrangements was appalling.

In the stadium bond case, the quick action by Mayor Royce Smith, Mr. William Roskelley and Mr. Marc Alan to carry the fight to the courts was most fortunate for all Michigan taxpayers. Bonds of this nature are simply "back door" taxes.

Again we thank Mayor Royce Smith of Belleville, Mr. William Roskelley and Mr. Marc Alan and those who backed the court case for blocking what would have been the second biggest scandal in Wayne County history.

Spending-tax spiral: something must give

Congress has lately made two additions to the brief list of certainties in American life. Social Security benefits will go up automatically in every year that there is significant inflation — and the Social Security taxes paid by many middle- and higher-income workers will rise in every year that there is no full-scale depression.

Those are the effects of two little noticed escalator clauses tucked into the Social Security bill that President Nixon grudgingly signed on July 1.

The clauses were overshadowed in public discussion by the immediate benefits and tax boosts written into the law. Beginning in September, benefits paid to the 27 million Social Security recipients will rise 20 per cent; the average retired couple will get $271 a month, v. $224 now.

The increase is four times as large as Nixon had proposed, and it will add more than $4 billion to the fiscal 1973 deficit.

The president had to sign, though, because Congress tied the bill to an extension of the debt ceiling; a veto would have left the Government unable to write any checks.

Social Security taxes next year will be taken out of the first $10,800 of a worker's pay, and in 1974 out of the first $12,000, way up from the first $9,000 now.

The tax rate will rise too, but only from 5.2 per cent to 5.5 per cent. Result: anyone earning $12,000 a year will pay $468 this year, $594 next year and $660 in 1974.

But he will not really feel this bite until late 1973 — almost a year after the elections. This year deductions from his paycheck stop at the end of September; next year they will continue through late November, and in 1974 they will go on all year.

When the escalators begin operating in 1975, they will change the system fundamentally. From then on, benefits will be lifted automatically to match any rise in consumer prices of 3 per cent a year or more.

That change will do away with the necessity for periodic congressional wrangles over how much to increase benefits. It will also give the elderly widows and disabled people new and valuable protection against inflation.

On the other hand, it may speed up inflation.

From 1975 on, also, the amount of earnings on which Social Security taxes are levied will go up every year in line with the general rise of wages in the economy. The taxable wage base could easily reach $15,000 by 1978, and $20,000 sometime in the 1980s.

Over the years, this change could drastically shift the impact of Social Security taxes, which in the past have hit hardest at low-paid workers. Unless Congress changes the law, taxes on people earning $12,000 a year or less will not go up at all after 1974, but many people who make more can expect to pay more every year.

The $15,000-a-year worker who pays $468 this year could be shelling out $825 in 1978.

That is a fair sample of the kind of tax boosts likely to hit the middle class in the next four years, whoever is elected in November.

Government spending has simply outrun the revenue-raising capacity of the tax system, and something — or rather someone — has to give.

Cutting budget offers only tax cut hope

By JOHN E. McCAULEY, State Senator, 11th District

The passage of my state lottery bill marked the successful conclusion of an effort that I began more than two years ago.

While much was said about the fact that SB 1382 passed the Senate in almost record time so far as the period from introduction to passage, the fact of the matter is that the bill had been in preparation for some months, and the House of Representatives waited until almost the last minute to act.

If my bill had not been acted upon, and at the time it was acted upon, we would not have had a state lottery bill until at least September. Millions of dollars in revenue would have been lost.

While I am pleased with the passage of the lottery bill, I would caution everyone that this is not the answer to our tax problems. The lottery will not result in the cutting of taxes. The lottery at best will delay or perhaps effectively postpone plans for new taxes. The real answer to our tax problem is a determination to end government waste.

My efforts to cut $10 million from the budgets of colleges and universities, money that will be used for trips, leaves, sabbaticals, and related activities, did not succeed.

Efforts to cut state spending meet resistance and ridicule at every turn, yet everyone I talk to seems to be all in favor of cutting government expense.

The fact is that we have to stop kidding ourselves and face reality. Cutting the cost of government is the only way to cut taxes.

The cuts mean that some services that government is now performing will have to be reduced or eliminated. Some of the jobs that government provides will have to be downgraded or phased out.

Stripping the fat from a government budget is very similar to getting rid of fat in the human body. You take in less, exercise more, get more work out of less food, and the result is a leaner, more efficient system.

One of the features of my lottery bill is the single executive concept. I designed this feature with efficiency and economy in mind.

The head of the lottery will have the say on how the system is set up. He will also have the responsibility.

If the lottery is as successful as I hope it will be, then the commissioner of the state lottery can take the credit. All I have done is provide the state with a vehicle that can run, if the governor selects the right person to do the driving.

I am certainly going to watch how the commissioner uses his power to contract out certain vital services.

For years, it has been my contention that the State of Michigan doesn't need the buildings-full of employees that we have in Lansing and elsewhere to perform the work assigned to the state by the laws. Many of those jobs could be contracted out, to businesses and other firms that pay more to their employees, but expect a high level of efficiency.

At one time, the House of Representatives wanted an amendment to my bill which would have allowed the commissioner to spend up to 15 per cent of the gross revenue to run the system. When the Senate and House conferees met, we certainly made it plain that even though this is considerably less than it costs to administer an educational institution it was too much. The 15 per cent figure was deleted from the bill.

I think that a lottery can be run for as little as eight per cent of the gross. That figure includes the advertising and that must be done to make certain that the lottery has a chance of success. If I am right, you can be sure that other state activities will be questioned as to why their administrative costs run 25 per cent and above.

So long as I am active in government, I intend to keep asking the questions that the bureaucrats don't like to answer. During the last year, I have taken the time to delve into some of the governmental activities and most of the time the story is one of less than efficient operation and use of available manpower and material.

If many of these bureaucrats would use their time figuring out how to use what they have instead of trying to con the legislature out of more money, our tax problems wouldn't be as severe as they are.

Lansing report

Consumer's council may face extinction

Michigan's fledgling consumer's council may be facing the prospect of extinction.

The four-year-old council has come up against harsh criticism from legislators who claim that it has not been an effective tool in combating consumer shakedowns.

However, a backroom attempt to cut the council's appropriation from its fiscal 1972 level of $113,000 failed last month. Grumbling lawmakers finally agreed to a $119,428 appropriation for fiscal 1973.

The council's problem has been that, as an agent of the legislature, it lacks the legal muscle to come down hard on deceptive advertisers and manufacturers.

It acts primarily as a clearing house for consumer complaints and does some work in attempting to warn the public about inferior products and swindles.

The shining star of the council, Director Dianne McKaig, left her post in June for a more lucrative job in consumer affairs with the Coca-Cola Company.

No one was too surprised that Miss McKaig, an ambitious lady with impressive credentials, left rapidly for a well-deserved and more promising position.

By JOANNA FIRESTONE

The void left by her departure has left the council's future in doubt.

Former State Sen. Lorraine Beebe's name has been kicked around in hushed circles as a potential successor to Miss McKaig, but that possibility was practically pulverized Thursday with Gov. William G. Milliken's announcement that he has named Mrs. Beebe chairman of the Michigan Women's Commission.

The women's commission was set up by Milliken several years ago, but only this year was it able to wrestle operating expenses from the executive budget.

The commission's now monied status hints that it will become a stronger, more active unit, needing a full-time chairwoman.

Although Mrs. Beebe was a highly respected and effective legislator, her credentials did not suit her for the consumer's council post.

Nevertheless, until Milliken's announcement (thought by many to be a deliberate move to pluck her from contention), Mrs. Beebe was indeed the front runner for Miss McKaig's position.

The likely successor now seems to be Miss McKaig's former assistant director and now acting chief Andrew Eiler.

Eiler, who knows the workings of the council, is expected to get considerable support from council members when they name the permanent director Aug. 3.

And Eiler has another, but less welcome, group of backers.

Legislators opposing the council see the director's void as a chance to chip away at its funding and eventually at its very existence.

By pushing for Eiler as director, the lawmakers hope to delete his former position as assistant director entirely from the council's roster.

And if they get their collective foot in the door by effecting this change, the future may indeed be bleak for the council.

MRS. DONALD R. STABENOW

At Congregational Church

Donald R. Stabenow weds Charlotte girl

West Carmel Congregational Church in Charlotte was the setting July 8 for the double ring ceremony which united Kathleen Yvonne Halbeisen and Donald R. Stabenow in holy matrimony.

The Rev. Daniel Richert of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston traveled to Charlotte to preside at the three o'clock nuptial rite.

Cynthia Wojtowicz of Ypsilanti was at the organ to accompany Mrs. Dennis Stabenow as she sang "The Lord's Prayer." The soloist also sang "One Love" with self-accompaniment on the guitar.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Halbeisen of Charlotte and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stabenow, Sr. of 39500 Huron River Drive, Romulus are parents of the young couple.

WALKING to the altar with her father, the bride appeared in a princess style creation of summer satin with imported French lace frosting the high-rise bodice, jewel neckline and full, Juliet sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion drifted from a crescent of flowers and her bridal bouquet was comprised of yellow sweetheart roses.

Mary Ann Halbeisen of Charlotte was her sister's honor maid with their cousin, Margaret Halbeisen of Detroit and Kay Green of Saginaw as bridesmaids.

Identically gowned, the trio wore toe-touching frocks of light blue voile flocked with an over-all pattern of daisies with the empire bodices traced with velvet ribbons.

Dainty cluster headpieces of daisies and blue and green ribbon streamers and bouquets of daisies completed their ensembles.

JOHN GASIDLO of Belleville served as best man. Groomsmen were Dennis Stabenow of Lansing, brother of the bridegroom, who also ushered, and Stephen Halbeisen of Charlotte, brother of the bride. Another of the bride's brothers, Dennis Halbeisen, helped seat the guests.

A buffet supper and reception followed at the Kardel Hall where Mrs. Halbeisen received in an Aline dress in pale aqua with accessories in beige. The bridegroom's mother chose a fitted dress in maize with white accessories. Both mothers were presented with orchid corsages.

Prior to taking up residence in Mt. Pleasant, the newlyweds spent two weeks honeymooning in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The new Mrs. Stabenow, who completed a two-year secretarial science program at Central Michigan University, is now employed at the Department of Natural Resources in Lansing.

Her husband is a 1968 alumnus of Belleville High School who graduated cum laude from C. M. U. where he earned a B.S. in education, majoring in health, physical education and recreation. He will be returning to the campus this fall as a graduate assistant to Dr. Thomas Jones. During his junior and senior years, Stabenow was also the assistant concert master in the C.M.U. Symphony Orchestra.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the senior Stabenows, took place at the Pour House in Lansing July 7.

Garden Club has lake side picnic

The Huron Valley Garden Club met Monday, July 10, for its July picnic dinner at the beautiful lakeshore home of Mrs. Donald W. Blend of Juniper Drive. Nineteen members were present for the pot-luck affair which was served on the lawn overlooking Belleville Lake.

New officers for the ensuing club year were named with Mrs. Adger Wall, president; Mrs. Harold Roberts, vice-president; Mrs. William Hennells, secretary; and Mrs. James Kaue, treasurer.

The new president conducted a short business meeting during which Mrs. Robert Shoens requested an associate membership which was granted with regrets.

Mrs. LaVerne Sayre, horticulture chairman, used "Trees" as the subject for discussion pointing out some of the many things trees provide for us, such as nitrogen, fruit, lumber, shade, and nuts. Animals and birdlife also depend on trees which act as air conditioners to our homes and sound cushions for noise.

The August meeting, a "mystery trip", will emanate from the home of Mrs. Donald Carlson on Harmony Lane.

It's different!

It sounds funny, but children will enjoy a combination of hot dogs spread with peanut butter-try them.

Silver wedding is celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Publiski of 45540 Rymut Drive, Belleville, were guests of honor at an evening lawn party celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary, Saturday, July 8.

Co-hosting the event at their nearby homes on Rymut Drive were their daughters and sons-in-law, Chris and Hugh McArthur and Joan and Jim Posegay.

A buffet dinner was served to some 140 guests from Houghton Lake, Temperance, Indian River, Lake Orion, Hudson, Plymouth, Saline, Milan, Ypsilanti, Willis, and Belleville. The couple later cut their three-tiered wedding cake and opened their gifts which included a silver money tree.

Adding a festive touch to the proceedings were decorated picnic tables arranged about the lawn, colorful candles and overhead lanterns.

The Publiskis, who were married July 8, 1947, have six grandchildren.

"TAILORED 'MS' — A trim knit suit is always popular with the busy active woman of today. This smart outfit with its graceful slenderizing eyelet pattern is perfect for that busy afternoon of shopping, office or "on the town." Wear a tailored blouse or your prettiest scarf with the elongated V neckline and you'll be prepared for any occasion. Knits, puris and yarn overs comprise this very simple pattern, but the result is fascinating. Single crochet borders the jacket and sleeves.

Garden Club has Mayor for a speaker

The Van Buren Garden Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. (Violet) Horste with Belleville Mayor Royce Smith as guest speaker. A question and answer session was followed by a planned pot-luck dinner which Mrs. Margaret Hanna was able to attend following her recent absences due to illness. Earlier in the month, the club toured Jackson Park in Windsor. The next regular meeting will be held in September.

FOREVER, O LORD, THY WORD IS FIRMLY FIXED IN THE HEAVENS... THY WORD IS A LAMP TO MY FEET AND A LIGHT TO MY PATH. PSALM 119

When a loved one has departed, it is to the living that we must offer consolation. We believe that the words of the scriptures can provide the greatest comfort of all... through their inspiring reassurance.

Ferstle-Moore Honeymoon is spent on Island of Aruba

A two week honeymoon on the Island of Aruba off the coast of Venezuela followed the July 7 marriage of Kathryn Mary Moore and Thomas Mark Ferstle. The newlyweds are now making their home in Monroe where the bridegroom is employed by Monroe County's Adult Probation Department.

An A-line gown designed with a pale blue bodice and blue and white print skirt.

A 1967 graduate of Airport Community High School, the new Mrs. Ferstle was graduated from Michigan State University in 1971 and is employed as a fifth grade teacher for the Airport Community Schools.

A 1967 alumnus of Huron High School, the bridegroom earned his B.A. degree at Michigan State University where he affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and the M.S.U. Cycling Club.

Held at the First United Methodist Church July 6, the rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ferstle.

Candles on the altar and pews and yellow and white floral arrangements formed the setting for the seven o'clock nuptials read by the Rev. R.D. Carter before some 275 assembled friends and relatives.

The double ring rite united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Moore of 12542 Fort Street, South Rockwood, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ferstle of 1922 Will Carleton Drive, Flat Rock.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride carried a free-form cascade of white Georgian orchids, miniature carnations and stephanotis accented with baby's breath and ivy.

The bride's wedding gown, in the empire mode, was fashioned of candlelight satin with re-embroidered Alencon lace and clusters of seed pearls frosting the bodice and bishop sleeves. A bishop collar formed the high neckline and a full chapel train cascaded from the A-line skirt which carried out the lace and pearl motif.

She completed her bridal ensemble with a lace and pearl bishop cap which secured her mid-back veil of French silk illusion. As "something old," the bride added an heirloom platinum and pearl pin at the throat of her gown. The pin had been a gift to her mother from her great-grandmother.

WEARING A PALE green gown of voile flocked in white, Deborah Moore served as her sister's maid of honor. Styling details on the toe-touching frock were a lace-trimmed scoop neckline, full sleeves gathered at the cuff, an empire bodice, and satin sash. Donning yellow dresses identical to Miss Moore's were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Michael Dalton of Flat Rock; Judy Southworth of Carleton; and Sue Davis, the bride's cousin from Rockwood.

Each carried colonial bouquets of white daisy pomps and baby's breath and pinned matching flowers in their hair. Two-year-old Christine McAtee was the petite flowergirl in a little yellow frock. The white basket she held was filled with daisy pomps.

The bridegroom's uncle from Lake City, Charles Lessard, was best man. Others on the esquire side were Bruce Moore, brother of the bride from South Rockwood; Tom Southworth of Carleton; and Chuck and Jim Huggard and Mike Dalton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, all from Flat Rock.

THE BRIDE'S MOTHER was escorted up the aisle in a floor-length gown with a green bodice and blue and green pleated print skirt. For the occasion, Mrs. Ferstle chose

Additives improve quality of foods

The 20th century has seen a food revolution. And food additives are a large factor in this revolution, says Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. Food additives are substances added to make food tastier, safer, more nutritious, better looking and to improve packaging and storing qualities. All additives fall into two broad types. Intentional additives perform specific functions such as preserving quality and appearance, adding flavor or enhancing nutritive value. Incidental additives unintentionally find their way into finished food products as a result of some phase of production, processing, packaging or storing.

Any substance added to a food product has survived a rigorous series of tests and evaluations, Mrs. Dean explains.

The first step is the recognition of a problem or the desire to develop a new product. If a chemical already in existence will not achieve the desired effect, a new one is developed.

Long before the substance comes near a food product, it is tested to determine its physical and chemical properties — melting and boiling points, color, odor, taste, solubility — and its ability to produce the desired effect. Studies with laboratory animals reveal any possible toxic effects.

The next-to-last step is submitting all pertinent information to the Food and Drug Administration, which evaluates the data and issues a regulation detailing the conditions for safe use. This includes the foods on which it may be used, the maximum amount that may remain on or in the food, and directions for labeling the finished product.

What would happen if all food additives were suddenly eliminated? The immediate result, Mrs. Dean points out, would be chaos. Baked goods would go stale overnight, peanut butter would turn rancid and separate, table salt would cake, canned fruits and vegetables would lose their color and shape, and many foods and beverages would lack their customary flavor.

The long-range effect would be a deterioration in nutrition and a subsequent decline in national health. Years of food research would have been undone, Mrs. Dean notes, and the consumer would be the loser.

Quintet enjoys quickie vacation

RITA KOSIN and her cousin, Teresa Sewejkis of Dearborn Heights, were treated to a mini-vacation in New York city last week. Leaving Metro Airport early Tuesday, July 11, they jetted to LaGuardia Airport with their mothers, Mary C. Kosin and Fran Sewejkis, and their aunt, Angela Maziarz of Bridgeport.

They spent the day touring Upper and Lower Manhattan with the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Grant's Tomb Chinatown, and the United Nations highlighting the day. Another special stop was the Statue of Liberty where the girls managed the long, steep climb into her crown.

The exhausted sightseers spent the night at Loew's elegant American Hotel in mid-town Manhattan where they enjoyed a beautiful view from their 47th floor rooms.

After breakfast the following day they covered the remainder of their itinerary: the Empire State Building (now the third tallest building in the world - the twin towers of the World Trade Center in New York boasting 110 stories; Macy's Department Store, and St. Patrick's Cathedral, with lunch at Cromwell's Pharmacy in the RCA Building and the lively Hawaiian show at Radio City Music Hall.

Climaxing their whirlwind vacation was an exciting (and Mary says, "That's hardly the word for it, believe me!") taxi ride in late afternoon traffic back to LaGuardia for some last minute gift shopping and the flight home.

July's the month for family birthdays

A FOUR-IN-ONE celebration took place last Wednesday evening at the Arthur Shephard home on Elwell Road where the July family birthdays were observed enmasse. The hostess took on the happy task of a picnic supper for which the weather cooperated beautifully - the sudden rains disappearing just in time for the outdoor meal.

Honored at the party were Art's sister, Fern Witt, a July 5th gal, who is spending some time here from Detroit; as well as their son, Jim Shephard; son-in-law, Roger Ferguson; and Roger's sister, Marie Doser of Ann Arbor, who claim July 12, 15 and 20 natal dates.

Well-wishers included the host and hostess and their son, Brian (who left the next day for a trip to Disney World with Jim and Marie Doser, also guests); the Fay Fergusons, Pat Shephard, and Diane Ferguson with Leslie, Shawn and Shari.

Here 'n there... around the town

A DELIGHTFUL DAY on the Detroit River was enjoyed last Monday by Mr. and Mrs. John Tononi of Martinsville Road. As guests of their son-in-law and daughter, the Robert Carrolls, they spent the day with them in their "summer home" (their cruiser) which rides anchor at the Detroit Yacht Club. With the skies clear and balmy and the sailing smooth, they cruised the waters, stopping at several islands enroute and enjoying dinner on board... RECENT NORTHERN Michigan vacationers were the Roger Allens of Belleville Road who drove up to Traverse City to spend several days with Aileen's former college roommate and her husband, Barbara and Cliff Hobart. The occasion was a reunion of the girls' old friends from Michigan State University and included couples from Denver, Colorado; Birmingham, Adrian, Columbus, Ohio; Bay City, and Belleville.

Marvelous minute

Cubed beef steaks are especially appropriate for summer cooking because they take so little time to prepare. For an intriguing entree, season the Italian way with oregano and basil and top each first - browned side with a slice of mozzarella or Romano cheese for added appeal.

MISS CUMMINGS

Wedding planned

Mr. and Mrs. William Cummings of 342 Brain Avenue, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joy Rose, to Richard John Jacob, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jacob of 14251 Hobart, Warren.

Miss Cummings, who is planning a spring wedding, is a 1970 graduate of Belleville High School.

Her fiancé, a 1967 alumnus of East Detroit High School, served with the U. S. Army for two years, 14 months of which were spent in Vietnam. He is now employed at Chrysler Corporation in Warren.

"He and She" merge

Newly wed Magdas honeymoon in Hawaii

Lest the over-line on this story tends to confuse some readers, "He and She" is one of Belleville's youngest new enterprises, the "He and She Pant Store" on Main Street. "He" is the owner, John Magda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magda of 11020

Rawsonville Road, Belleville, and "she" is the manager, Joanne Bodenmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bodenmiller of 40282 Alden Drive, Belleville. The couple chose St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus for their June 17 nuptials presided over by the Rev. Joseph Kernosek at five in the afternoon.

ESCORTED TO the sanctuary by her father, Joanne appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace over satin designed with a high, stand-up collar and long, wrist-point sleeves.

Complimenting the A-line creation were a lace-bordered cathedral-length veil of silk illusion which drifted from a lace Juliet cap and a hand bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and baby's breath.

The bride's best friend from Saline, Vicki Saksewski, carried out the role of honor attendant while Jeanne and Carol Bodenmiller, sisters of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

Their identical gowns were fashioned of white dotted swiss frosted with rows of multi-colored flowers. They wore soft-brimmed picture hats, the honor maid's in blue and the others in yellow, and carried bouquets of varicolored sweetheart roses, daisies, and rubrum lilies and baby's breath.

Members of the younger set taking part in the wedding were seven-year old Doreen Magda, who was flowergirl, and four-year old Mark Barnett, the ringbearer.

Doreen donned a yellow taffeta frock with white daisies on the empire bodice and on the two rows of ruffles at the hemline. She wore a long braided headpiece and carried a basket of daisies, sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

David Saksewski of Saline was asked to be best man. Groomsmen were J. Spencer Barnett of Westland, brother-in-law of the bride, and Jim Baker of Belleville.

Mrs. Bodenmiller chose for the occasion an aqua chiffon dress and white accessories while Mrs. Magda was in a blue ensemble with white accessories. Both mothers were honored with cymbidium orchid corsages.

Following their reception at the Romulus Progressive Club, the newlyweds departed for an eight-day honeymoon in Hawaii. They are now at home to friends at 11020 Rawsonville Road, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Magda was graduated from Belleville High School in 1970 and her husband from Lincoln High in 1964. He later studied electronics for two years in Detroit and is employed at United Air Lines at Metro Airport.

The Albert Magdas, parents of the bridegroom, entertained at the rehearsal dinner in their home the evening before the wedding.

Marriage announced

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Wilbert Birk of 6384 Denton Road, Belleville, and Donald C. Dempsey of 1178 Lester Avenue, Ypsilanti. The ceremony was held Saturday, July 8, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Belleville.

Hawaiian salad

Summer showers and sunshine have produced salad days. Organdy crisp lettuce and other salad bowl favorites such as spinach, cucumbers, tomatoes, celery, carrots and green beans are in excellent supply and of high quality.

These garden fresh vegetables make appealing salads. However, it's when meat is included that a salad achieves entree status. Men consider a salad more than mere "rabbit food" when it contains strips, cubes or slices of beef, pork, lamb or sausage. Meat produces a salad that satisfies as well as stimulates appetites, says Reba Staggs, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

HAWAIIAN HAM SALAD

- 2 cups cubed cooked smoked ham
- 1 cup drained pineapple chunks
- 1 cup sliced celery
- ½ cup pitted ripe olives, halved
- ¼ cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ¼ cup peanuts
- Lettuce cups

Combine ham, pineapple, celery and ripe olives. Mix mayonnaise and lemon juice and lightly stir into ham mixture. Chill in refrigerator 1 hour or more. Stir in peanuts and serve in lettuce cups. 6 servings.

Lloyd-Toth nuptials read in Ann Arbor

New residents of Belleville, now making their home at 776 Sumpter Road, are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wesley Lloyd, Jr. The couple was married July 8 at the West Side Methodist Church in Ann Arbor with the Rev. Milton H. Bank officiating the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Lloyd is the former Lorie Eileen Toth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Toth of Hamburg, Belleville residents. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wesley Lloyd, Sr., are parents of the bridegroom.

The four thirty wedding was followed by a reception at the American Legion Hall in Ann Arbor after which the young couple departed on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls with camping in Canada.

MRS. GAYLE E. Middlebrook of Belleville, sister of the bride, was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Wendy Radabaugh of Hamburg; Carolyn Covington of Ann Arbor; Sharon Hunter of Taylor, cousin of the bride; and Sharon Winkle of Stockbridge, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride's brother-in-law, Jack D. Middlebrook of Belleville, was asked to be best man. The corps of ushers included Randy Toth of Belleville, brother of the bride; Renny Huntsinger of Stockbridge, cousin of the bride; Gary and Mike Toth of Hamburg, brothers of the bride; Fred Winkle of Stockbridge, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and George Copp of Belleville, cousin of the bridegroom.

Michelle Winkle of Stockbridge was flowergirl at her uncle's wedding and Thomas Jones of Ann Arbor performed as ringbearer for his aunt.

Belleville Chapter 1135: July is College of Regents Month. The program was held July 10 with visiting Collegian from Ann Arbor, Farmington, Melvindale, Taylor, Ypsilanti and Jackson. Collegian June Sanders gave us an informative talk about her trip to Mooseheart. Collegian Martha Morton received her Red Tassel.

We enrolled four new co-workers, Agnes McCarthy, Elaine McCarthy, Sharon Willis and Joy Arnold. After the program we all sat down to a delicious lunch. Those Collegians sure can cook!

Just a reminder: our meetings are held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Osbornes honored on 35th anniversary

An open house Sunday, July 9, was held in observance of the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Osborne of 5400 Denton Road, Belleville. Mrs. Osborne was Julia Lux when she married her husband in Avella, Pennsylvania in 1937.

Held from two until six at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne of Savage Road, the party was given by the couple's three children: William of Belleville; Mrs. Sylvia Riser of Taylor; and Mrs. Sandra Salliotte of Belleville.

Guests included their nine grandchildren and friends and relatives from Maryland, Taylor, Livonia, Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Southfield, and Belleville.

AMONG THE GIFTS received was a beautiful money tree, created by Mrs. William Gerick which bore gifts from friends and neighbors. Each dollar bill was fanned to form a circle daisy, then trimmed with pink crepe paper before being attached to the "tree."

The Osbornes have lived on Denton Road since 1950. Mr. Osborne worked at Motor State in Ypsilanti until its recent move from the area. He is currently supervisor of maintenance at North Junior High School in Belleville.

Donna Pfeiffer loves her Gas furnace.

Especially in summer.

Because she had a Gas air conditioner added to her Gas furnace. And so the same dependable and economical blue flame that warms her home all winter now cools it all summer—using the same blowers, ducts and registers.

Now it's a total comfort system that's quiet, clean and economical. In fact, a Gas air-conditioning system costs only about half as much to operate as an electric system. So, if you have a Gas furnace, you're already a long way toward a great year-round comfort system.

Don't wait. Call your local heating and cooling contractor or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company representative today.

He'll show you how easy it is to love your Gas furnace... winter and summer.

Craven tells reasons he seeks county post

George L. Craven of 11514 Fisher, Van Buren Township, has announced his candidacy for the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in the newly-created 27th District.

The new district, formerly a combination of the 26th and 27th Districts, will be comprised of Van Buren, Sumpter and Canton Townships, Plymouth, Wayne and part of Westland.

According to Craven, his goal, if elected, would be to represent the people and their stand on the Willow Run Airport expansion plans. He also said he would seek reorganization of the county board to achieve a more efficient administrative body. "Public office requires more than mere attendance, hard work is necessary to fulfill the constituents' needs," Craven said. He is employed as an architect, a field which, he said, gave him experience in planning and budget control. A lifelong resident of Wayne County, he is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Architecture.

GEORGE L. CRAVEN

He is vice-president of the Van Buren-Belle Isle Democratic Club and the 15th District Democratic Club and helped found and served as first chairman of the Belle Isle Area Human Relations Council. He also is a past president of the Lake Crest Civic Association.

His professional memberships include the American Institute of Architects, the Engineering Society of Detroit and the Construction Specifications Institute.

He and his wife, Doreen have four children.

MAYOR ROYCE SMITH

Candidates to discuss lake gift

The Van Buren Lake and Park Committee will hold a "Meet the Candidates" night on Monday at the Belleville High School auditorium.

All candidates have been invited to the meeting to speak on two questions — whether or not they would vote to accept Belleville Lake and the park as a gift from Detroit Edison "without attaching any strings to such acceptance" and if they would vote to fund the operation of the park and lake from the present recreation fund.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mayor Smith offers new lake tax plan

Belleville Mayor Royce E. Smith said this week he feels he has to take a position siding with Joseph Hogan, Democratic candidate for Van Buren Township supervisor, in the current controversy over Edison Lake.

"The question deals with what Van Buren Township should do on an offer by Detroit Edison to give the lake to the township, and I want to make clear that my comments on it are while wearing my hat as a candidate for state representative in the 22nd District...not as mayor of Belleville," Smith said.

To my knowledge, although nearly two miles of the lake touch Belleville, added Smith, "the Van Buren officials have never officially contacted the city for any position it might have relating to upkeep or costs connected with that portion of Edison Lake.

"So I assume that they have not reached a point where they think such conversations are needed.

"But I have personally had many calls and inquiries made of me as to what I think. And, as a candidate for a public office, I think I should have a position and let the public know what it is so that no one is misled.

"I think that Van Buren Township should have another vote on whether or not to accept the lake—based simply on the fact that there was conflicting literature and statements produced in the last election when the offer was rejected by voters.

"However, as a result of that confusion, I agree with Mr. Hogan that before another election is held, that a committee should be appointed to definitely establish once and for all what the involved costs are, or might become."

To start, there is a tax loss of $34,000.

Smith said that he has personally contacted Detroit Edison to request information on the size of the lake and the costs connected with its ownership, but has not yet received that information.

"As a result," he said, "I cannot state much of anything as fact about costs.

"I do know, however, that from a clipping from a local paper back in 1963 from then Planning Commission Chairman Robert Perry, it was indicated that the perimeter of the lake is nearly 20 miles, or 105,600 feet.

"And I agree that individuals who own lake frontage derive certain more additional benefits from the lake, in property valuation if nothing else, than do other individuals who might merely live near it.

"I feel I have many friends living on the lake and those with whom I have discussed the matter thus far seem agreeable to paying something reasonable for it, particularly if it would assure that the lake will be there and be cared for."

Smith said he was not prepared to recommend what that figure should be, but that his discussions with various individuals had involved a figure of approximately 50 cents a running foot for lake frontage.

"In a manner of speaking, if this figure is even close to what might be settled upon, I would assume that those individuals living on the lake could produce in excess of $40,000 a year for its upkeep," Smith said, adding:

"Then I would assume that other Van Buren residents could perhaps take another over-all look at the picture because they could undertake the remainder of the land involved as a township project. Every resident could expect to use the land where it is obvious not all have use of lake frontage."

Smith said that Belleville's council has not officially discussed the problem, but that there have been occasions when visitors in the audience have asked questions of council members and presumable talked about it after council meetings.

Smith also said that, as far as he and his candidacy for state office are concerned, that he considers the pollution of the lake and what can be done about getting it cleaned up more important than who owns it.

"I think it is only good business sense for anyone involved to know what the costs might be and have knowledge and assurances of where the money will come from before undertaking ownership of the lake," he said.

"And I think that it is the business of the Van Buren Township electorate to decide that.

"But, as an individual who is asking the voters of this area for the right to represent them in Lansing, I want to make clear that I am vitally concerned with clearing up the pollution of that lake no matter who eventually is listed as its owner and will work to that end either way."

Liquor license OK'd

The Van Buren Township Board has recommended the issuance by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission of a Special Designated Merchant (SDM) license to Raymond Verrot of 44044 Harmony Lane, Belleville.

The SDM license, for sale of beer and wine off the premises is for Verrot's proposed restaurant-bar to be built at Haggerty Road and Huron River Drive.

Verrot's application for a Class C liquor license has been approved by the township. The actual issuance of this license is up to the state liquor control commission.

The commission has allotted the township three new Class C licenses based on population increase reflected in the 1970 U. S. Census.

AGAINST FORD'S STAND — A group of picketers protested yesterday Congressman William Ford's school busing position in front of Ford's Wayne Post Office

headquarters. Children as well as parents in two anti-busing groups manned the picket lines, while Ford met inside with newsmen.

'Busing threat gone'

For Detroit metro area--Ford

By TRUDY KETELHUT
Daily Eagle Staff Writer

The threat of forced cross-district busing in the Detroit metropolitan area has been virtually nullified, Congressman William D. Ford (D-15) claimed yesterday.

One of the major problems facing the nation, he contended, is erasing the scars left from the busing battle. That job may take years, he said.

At his office in Wayne, Ford said he feared that many would capitalize on the emotionalism of the issue to take "quick, cheap shots at political office" by playing politics with school buses.

Ford laid much of the blame for wavering confidence in the nation's judicial system at the doorstep of U.S. Judge Stephen J. Roth.

He attacked Roth's manner of handling the desegregation case for prompting "public lack of confidence in the courts to resolve this kind of problem."

Ford suggested that Roth took particular pains with the wording in his rulings to be appropriately vague.

"He changed tack three times since last fall. He's zig-zagging with us."

"People have been left to speculate about anything their imaginations could produce and it opens the door for the uninformed to intentionally, or otherwise, speculate."

Ford predicted an increase of anti-busing demonstrations by civic organizations.

"People are too quick to go outside the system" to seek redress, he complained.

The Congressman maintained that the Broomfield amendment to the Higher Education Bill signed into law recently provides the legal fortifications to prevent any busing.

"I'm willing to stake my reputation of 20 years as a practicing lawyer that, as it stands now, there is no possibility the Roth order will be upheld in appellate court or will ever go into effect in any area," he said.

The Broomfield amendment bars any court-ordered busing review by the United States Supreme Court.

Yesterday, Michigan Governor William G. Milliken and State Attorney General Frank Kelley filed an appeal in Cincinnati to Roth's order that the state pay for the 300 buses which are needed to implement busing plans.

Ford contends Roth has no legal precedent for ordering desegregation via cross-district busing.

"This case will make the law for the rest of the country. There is no doubt in my mind that a substantial part of Roth's order, if not all, will be reversed."

The Congressman claimed there have been no precedent-setting cases for busing across district lines which could give weight to Roth's decisions in the eyes of Supreme Court justices.

To date, Roth has not actually ordered that children or teachers be bused.

"The instant he does," Ford said, "the appeals pending will trigger the new federal law (Broomfield amendment) into effect."

Last week President Nixon announced he would instruct the Justice Department to make full use of the Broomfield amendment in Michigan.

Residents picket Ford on school busing stand

By MIKE ARNHOLT
Daily Eagle Staff Writer

An anti-busing group of about 40 adults and children demonstrated outside Congressman William Ford's office in Wayne late yesterday morning, claiming the Congressman was not opposed to busing.

A spokesman for the United Angry Women (UAW), Mrs. Shirley Gilmore of Garden City, claims that Ford, despite his current anti-busing position, favors integration. She added, "In my mind you can't integrate suburban schools without busing."

Mrs. Gilmore cited the Congressman's backing of the recent Higher Education Bill as evidence of his "lack of sincerity" in his anti-busing position.

The bill contains provisions for integrated "education parks", which Mrs. Gilmore labels "socialistic."

Several members of the Garden City National Action Group (NAG) were also present at the demonstration.

NAG chapter president Emily Brock made it clear that they were separate from the UAW group.

NAG's presence at the demonstration was only to protest a section of the Higher Education Bill that would provide federal funds to school districts that bring students in from outside the district, Mrs. Brock said.

She interpreted this to be federal funds for busing.

Congressman Ford's reaction to the demonstration was rather mild. He pointed out that he was in his office and "other people had no difficulty in talking with me."

"I feel, with the number of children that were involved, coming in to talk could have been a great object lesson for the children."

"The NAG people cannot accept the course of the busing issue," Ford contends.

If the courts do overturn the busing decision, the Congressman feels NAG would lose its base of support.

"Unfortunately, they (NAG) have become involved in the election of political candidates, rather than the education of their children."

Girl Scouts close spring activities

For many Girl Scout troops, the annual Southern Wayne Association Encampment, held June 16-18, was a wind-up of their spring activities.

This year the Girl Scout troops from Belleville, Romulus, Huron Township, New Boston and Flat Rock traveled to Camp Linden, a Huron Valley Girl Scout Council owned camp in Genesee County.

Three hundred girls, accompanied by their leaders, packed their equipment for the weekend encampment, whose object was to acquaint the girls with the facilities available at their own camp, such as the waterfront, equipped for swimming and canoeing (part of three lakes); three winterized lodges equipped for year round use and use at resident camp; the many platform tents, unique to the Linden campsite; a view of the nearly completed dining hall; hiking trails and the beautiful scenery that covers nearly 400 acres.

Climax of the weekend was the all-camp fire conducted by the girls. The program consisted of Indian dancing displayed by Troop 114 of Romulus, songs directed by Addell Austin of Romulus, and in conclusion a flag-burning ceremony held with a rare, quiet dignity.

Gayle Simons and Kim Lidel of Cadette Troop 419 of Belleville conducted the ceremony.

County official criticizes cut in prosecutions

The chairman of the special budget committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has charged County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan with departmental inefficiency and unwillingness to economize.

Commissioner Richard E. Manning of Redford (D-Dist. 19) made the charges in response to Cahalan's threat to cease certain prosecutions unless he is allotted more manpower by the Board of Commissioners.

Unless Cahalan can properly prosecute all complaints, he should "step down in favor of someone who will accept the responsibility," said Manning.

The full text of his remarks is as follows:

"As chairman of the Special Committee on Budget, I feel it is my responsibility to respond to the prosecutor's recent statement, in which he declared an intent to refuse to prosecute certain crimes committed in Wayne County because of the refusal of the county commissioners to give him additional manpower.

"We must take issue with his use of scare tactics in an attempt to force the Committee on Budget to change its position and curtail hospital facilities, public health immunization and venereal disease programs, juvenile court operations, circuit court operations, and sheriff's operations for the purpose of beefing up an operation which we found to be top heavy with expensive department heads who do not try criminal cases.

We found further that his staff is equal to Oakland and Macomb County Prosecutors' offices in attorneys per one thousand population, while his conviction return is far below those same two counties.

"The prosecutor is well aware of the financial position of Wayne County, and the task of the commissioners to change the 'spend, spend, spend' approach of administrators such as Cahalan to 'save, save, save' attitude so that we will live up to the responsibility to stay within the millage granted by the taxpayers of this county.

"Very bluntly, our committee, after exhaustive review of the prosecutor's demands, was unimpressed with the case he presented on the utilization of the manpower allotted to him.

Brush hog approved to mow uncut fields

The Van Buren Township Board will spend $250 for equipment in an attempt to take over a job which has become an increasingly larger thorn in the side of township officials.

board agreed to purchase a brush hog, a big rotary mower which chops down brush and grass. An ordinance adopted in 1958 requires the township to mow lots which are not properly taken care of by township residents. The residents must then pay $10 for the job or have the money added to their taxes if they fail to make payment. According to officials, the procedure has been a large problem in the past few years, with residents registering complaints daily. The township has been hiring outsiders to do the job, but they are demanding an increasingly larger amount each year to do the work. This year it was done at the cost of $8 per lot to the township, with the residents being billed $10. But because of problems with rocks and materials in fields, many parcels were not adequately mowed, officials said. The township originally investigated the possibility of paying $750 for a sickle bar, which would not be damaged by obstructions in the fields. However, it decided instead to buy a used brush hog for $250 and use township people to operate it and check the fields prior to mowing. G. Elton Gollwitzer, township supervisor, along with several board members said they have received a number of complaints this year from persons about the procedure, charging some fields were never mowed and others were when they didn't need it. According to the supervisor, the biggest problem is the fact that often the township cannot find out who owns certain lots which are judged to be in need of mowing.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S
horoscope
Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: You are now able to get an influential man to go along with a plan you are developing into a campaign to bring you many of the conditions most suitable to you at present. Be sure to merchandise your ideas in such a fashion that those of the general public who can help you will do so.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Someone in government could be most helpful to you now with some problems you may have. Make sure you do not start any arguments with kin in p.m. Do whatever will make them much happier instead.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Show partners you're more than willing to cooperate now and then you get better results. Plan the future more intelligently with them. Get approval of plans you have. Relax in p.m.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Show skill in the handling of duties ahead of you and gain better cooperation from co-workers. Buy the right kind of clothing that will accentuate your best points. Avoid extravagance, though.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Out to the pleasures you enjoy with others during your spare time and relieve anxieties. Make sure you do not argue with others in p.m. Showing your devotion to the one you love is wise in p.m. Add to happiness.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Handle duties early whether in business or at home so you can get out to social activities in p.m. and have fun. Buy whatever gadgets are necessary so the home functions better. Take it easy in p.m.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy at the duties that make your life run more smoothly in the future so you get rid of frustration. Gain the cooperation of partners by starting some new upswing in all your mutual affairs.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Keep busy at bookkeeping records and government reports and get all straightened out well. Make sure your wardrobe is in good order, too. Out socially in p.m., or for other recreation.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy with personal matters and make the progress you want. Spend time at beauty or barber shop. Make a fine impression on that special date you have and enjoy the evening.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Gadding about gathering knowledge and data you need is good during the morning. Fine day for that philanthropic work you want to do, also. Today's activities can add much to your present success.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to see those fine friends today who are usually difficult to reach and deepen your association. Until the Sun goes down, you can progress in gaining some aim. Avoid some situation that could lead to big trouble.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can accomplish a great deal where outside duties are concerned, so be sure to get an early start. Support some fine official who can do you a big service in return. Show courtesy.

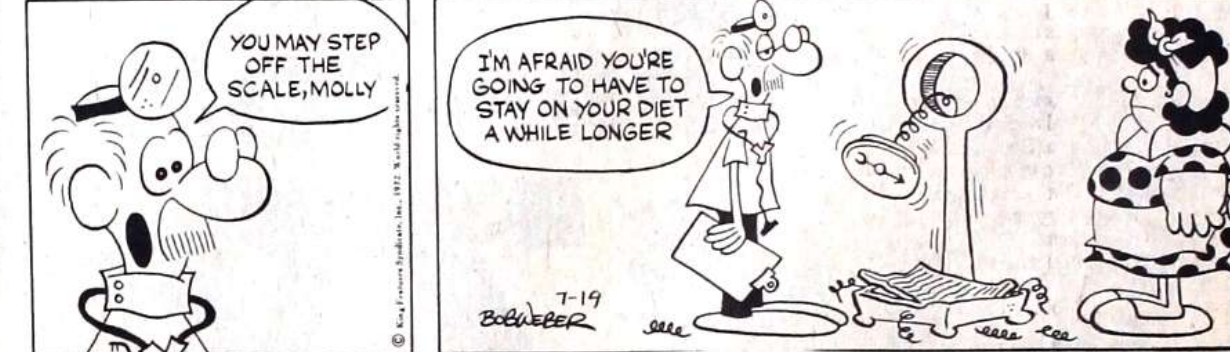

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Concentrating some of your time on recent acquaintances, whose background, experience are dissimilar to your own, is wise. Get the information you need. Plan a trip for further data.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those delightful young people with many ideas buzzing around in the head who is so magnetic that everyone will want to spoil this clever youngster. Be sure to give enough discipline to teach to stand on own two feet and make a big success, instead of becoming a mere sponger. Teach proper ethics early, or your child could become very ruthless because of lack of such teaching, and the life could be bitter.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Romulus girl, horse advance to national meet

For the second consecutive year, 16-year-old Carla Hay of Romulus and her purebred Arabian gelding, Cest La Vie, earned top honors at the annual Empire State Arabian Horse Show held July 7-9, in Syracuse, N.Y.

Carla was named top junior rider of the three-day Class A show, which attracted more than 500 Arabian show horses from all parts of the United States.

In this repeat performance, Carla and Cest La Vie earned identical honors which they won during the 1971 Empire State Arabian Show. Carla was presented with the beautiful Angle-K-Arabian Farm Challenge Trophy, upon which her name will be engraved for the second year. In his own right, Cest La Vie won the Gelding High Point Trophy for earning the highest number of points throughout the entire New York show.

This year brought a new special honor to Carla, when she won the English Equitation class for which she will receive the Nelson Chamberlain Memorial Trophy, a silver punch bowl presented for the first time by the widow of the late Nelson Chamberlain, a well-known breeder of Arabian horses in New York state.

Carla made a clean sweep of the junior division, winning first place blue ribbons and silver trophies in six classes. She won her two English Equitation Classes as well as her two Equitation Classes in the Western division.

"Number 19 just seemed to be a magic number for me," said Miss Hay.

"Sailor" (Cest La Vie) and I worked together in perfect harmony through all of the classes," she said. "Sailor works best under pressure and knows when he is winning. Both of us love competition."

Carla qualified for the 1972 U.S. National Championship Arabian and Half-Arabian Horse Show, scheduled to be held Oct. 24-29 in Oklahoma City, Okla.

She took both the Iaha Stock Seat Medal Class and the Iaha Saddle Seat Medal Class. In each of these events, the rider and the horse perform in the ring individually and are judged on the ability of the rider.

Throughout this summer Carla has been competing in Class A Arabian Horse shows in Columbus, Ohio; Indianapolis, Ind.; Michigan, Northern Illinois and Central Illinois as well as in New York.

She shows for Zephyr Arabians, a family farm owned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hay of Romulus.

In the nationals Carla will be eligible to compete in four classes, including the English and Western Medal classes, Arabian Native Costume and Geldings at Halter.

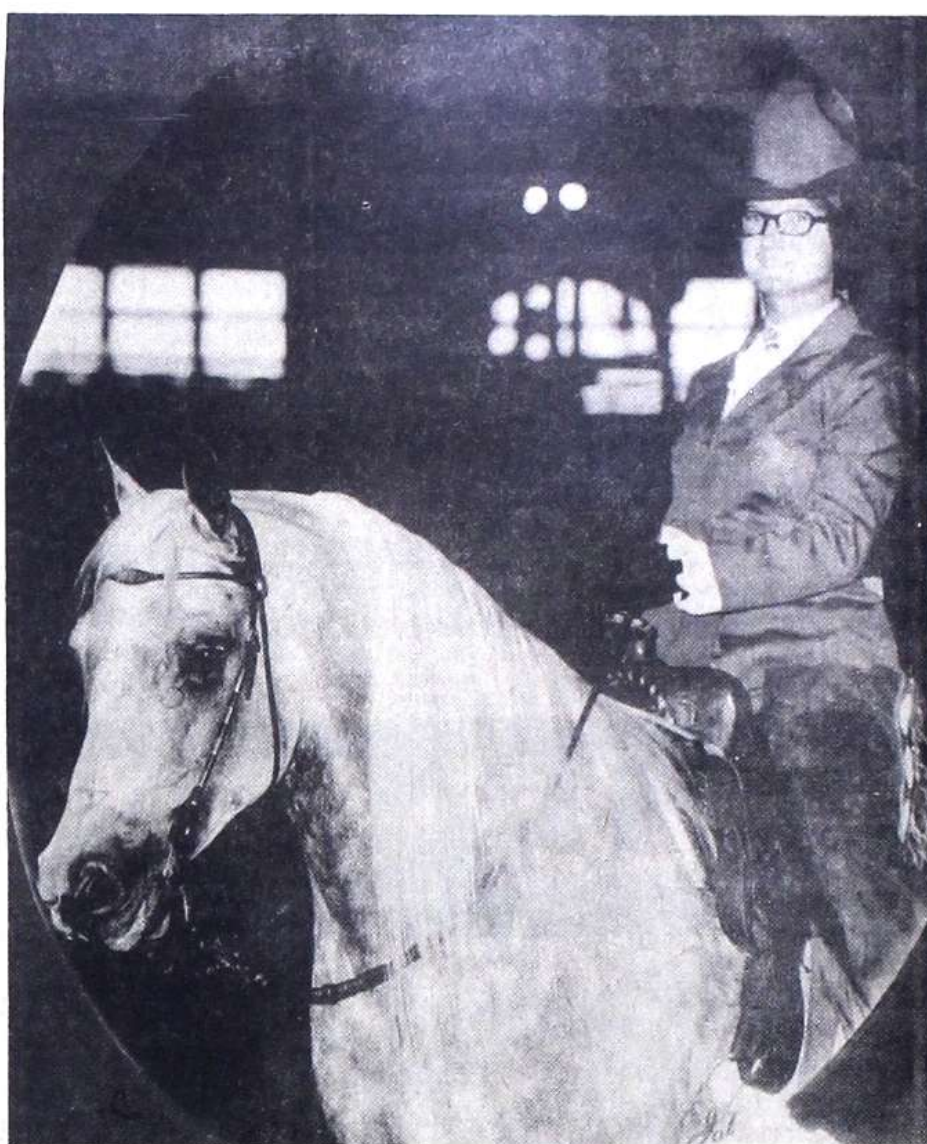

This will be Carla's third year in national competition. In 1970 Cest La Vie was named to the Top Ten Champion list among purebred Arabian horses in the United States.

Meanwhile Carla and Cest La Vie competed in the Michigan Arabian Show held at the Detroit Fairgrounds.

In the 1971 Michigan Arab Show, Carla and her mount were Reserve High Point champions of the four-day show, which annually attracts between 500 to 600 Arabian horses and owners from many states and Canada.

The young Romulus horsewoman will be in the 11th grade this fall at Romulus High School, where she is an all-A student. A 4-H club member of the Romulus Western Riders since she was 10, she has earned many county and state honors.

Carla is also an accomplished pianist and finds time to get in a lot of swimming as well.

ON TO NATIONALS — Carla Hay, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hay of Romulus, and her purebred Arabian gelding, Cest La Vie, has qualified for the 1972 U.S. National Championship Arabian and Half-Arabian Horse Show to be held in Oklahoma City in October. Carla recently won top honors at the annual Empire State Arabian Horse Show in Syracuse, N.Y.

12 new plays in all

WSU theatres set fall season schedule

Alexandre Dumas' "The Three Musketeers" and Kurt Vonnegut's "Happy Birthday, Wanda June" will open the 1972-73 seasons at the Hilberry and Bonstelle Theatres at Wayne State University this fall.

Seasons of five new plays plus revivals at the Hilberry and seven new productions at the Bonstelle have been announced by University Theatre director Leonard Leone.

"The Three Musketeers" marks the opening of the Hilberry's 10th anniversary season, with a black-tie President's Preview for Sponsors on Friday, Nov. 10, and the public opening the following Thursday, Nov. 16. The modern stage version of the 19th century romantic adventure classic begins an anniversary repertory of plays ranging from Elizabethan to modern.

The other new productions and official opening dates are: Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," Jan. 4; Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "The School for Scandal," Jan. 25; Ben Johnson's "Volpone," March 1; and Georges Feydeau's "Cat Among the Pigeons," April 5.

"Happy Birthday, Wanda June" gets the Bonstelle Theatre started on Friday, Oct. 13, with the one Broadway play by Kurt Vonnegut, author of "Slaughterhouse Five" and numerous other books currently enjoying great popularity in the youth market. Additional performances are Oct. 14-15 and 20-22. The production introduces a season that is primarily modern.

The Bonstelle line-up includes Stephen Sondheim's prize-winning musical "Company" (Nov. 24-26, Dec. 1-3), David Rabe's "The Basic Training of Pavlo Hummel" (Feb. 16-18, 23-25), Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" (March 16-18, 23-25), Kaufman and Connelly's "Merton of the Movies" (April 27-29, May 4-6), and two Black Theatre productions of plays to be selected and announced later (scheduled for January and May).

The Hilberry's fall schedule will be filled out with revivals of last season's Shakespeare productions — "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Romeo and Juliet." Both will be presented for school matinees, with "A Midsummer Night's Dream" also scheduled for a limited run on the evening schedule.

The Hilberry's anniversary season celebrates the 10th birthday of the first and only surviving graduate repertory company in the country. The Hilberry opened in January, 1964, with a repertory of four Shakespeare plays.

The 1972-73 season marks the 22nd year that Wayne State University has presented a series of plays in the historic Bonstelle Theatre at 3424 Woodward. The university reopened the former Jessie Bonstelle Playhouse in 1951.

Further information about the Hilberry 10th season and the Bonstelle's new subscription series is available from the Theatre Box Office in the Hilberry lobby, Cass and Hancock, telephone 577-2972.

Will-O-Way auditions set Sunday

Open auditions for actors and dancers, singers for the musical comedy "Guys and Dolls" will be 3 to 5 p.m., Sunday at Will-O-Way Theatre, 775 W. Long Lake Rd., Bloomfield Hills.

Professionals and semi-professionals are welcome to audition. Singers, dancers, actors and technical help, are needed.

"Guys and Dolls" will open Aug. 18. Will-O-Way is presently in the planning stages of its fall season so applicants may also have the opportunity to be in additional musicals.

Applicants may call between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to arrange a private audition following the Sunday open audition, phone 644-4418, in case of conflicts.

Audience takes part in musical

The final performances of the musical "Mame" by Herman and Lee will be presented Friday and Saturday at Will-O-Way Theatre, Bloomfield Hills. The audiences are invited to join in, sing along, dance along, jitterbug and dance after the curtain with the cast.

The concept of audience participation in a musical is a new one, and Will-O-Way feels it is a theatrical tranquilizer, relieving inner tensions and outer ones too.

"We are faced by constant pressure in today's society," says Celia Merrill Turner, director of Will-O-Way. Entertainment used to offer a relief, but now both theatre and film have turned to despair and starkness as a mode, so the individual has almost no chance of re-newing his spirit of hope in mankind.

"Musicals have always brought a message of a better tomorrow. Mame says 'Live!', and 'Open a new window!', and, in essence, don't be afraid, life can be a banquet! Through the combination of music and a script with a message, we feel we are giving the audience a renewed feeling, an inward look, without torturing him in the process."

International Olympic art posters at the Detroit Institute of Arts and the City hosting of the U.S. Youth Games bring some flavor of the summer Olympics to Detroit for those who cannot travel to Munich, Germany, this August.

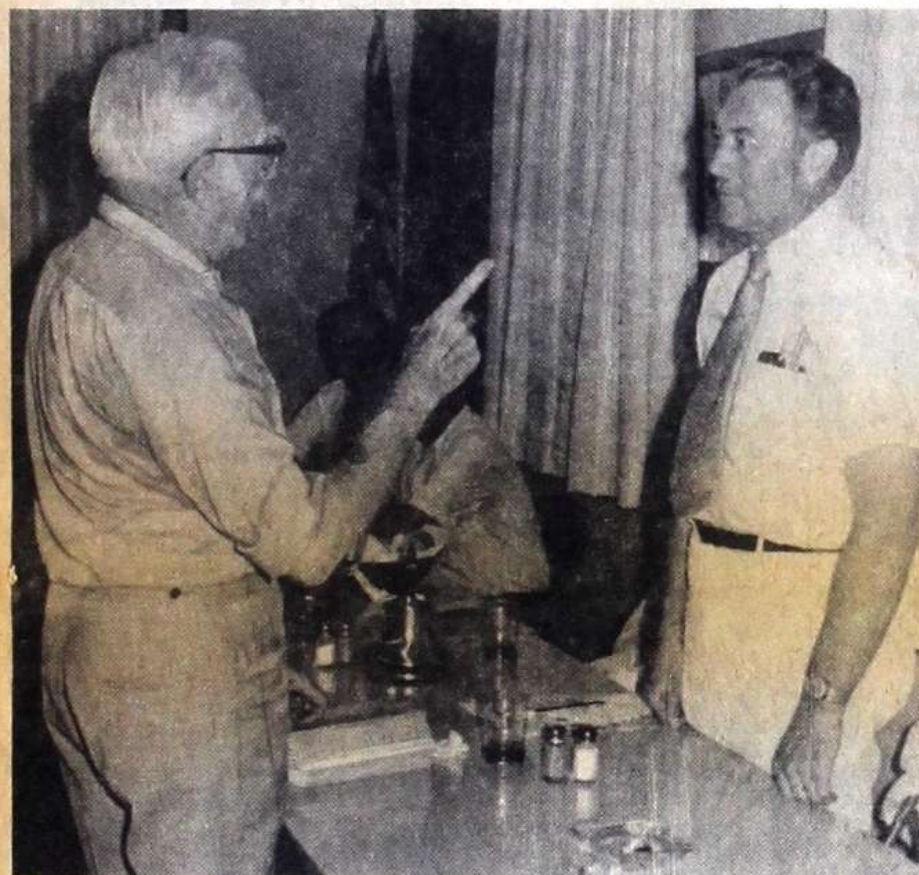

The Underground Museum of the Art Institute is showing 28 international artists' graphic interpretations of the XXth Olympiad.

The idea of athletic spectacle inspiring fine art is older than the first Olympic Games.

Displayed will be the nine-color poster created by the Organization of Young Artists, an inner-city group. It was commissioned by the City National Bank to promote the U.S. Youth Games, which take place in Detroit Aug. 10-13.

Through Friday, Aug. 11, the Olympic poster display is open to the public without charge in the Art Institute's Underground Museum. Underground hours are 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday.

Following the new policy of presenting musicals that are old friends, Mrs. Turner has chosen "Guys and Dolls" as their next production. Actors and dancers are invited to audition by appointment by calling the theatre at 644-4418.

GETTING SOME ADVICE — There's no better way to learn the ropes than from someone who's been around a long time, as Luke Wegienka (right), newly installed New Boston Rotary Club president, is learning.

Earnie Miller, the club's oldest member, appears to be giving the new prexy some serious advice at last week's installation. Miller has been a loyal member of the organization since 1928.

County proposal wins backing of tradesmen

County Proposition B — the Wayne County 1-mill renewal that will be on the Aug. 8 primary election ballot — has been endorsed by the Greater Detroit Building Trades Council.

The council represents some 60,000 building tradesmen in the metropolitan area. Its delegate body approved the millage proposition unanimously July 10.

County Proposition B asks the voters to extend a 1-mill ($1 per $1,000 of equalized valuation) for another five-year period. The millage last was renewed in 1968 by a vote of 171,989-78,617.

The delegate body acted on an endorsement request which pointed out that the 1-mill costs the average homeowner 75 cents a month, but produces $13 million annually to help finance general county services.

Noting that the county already faces a $13 million deficit due to rising costs, the letter requesting endorsement said loss of the 1-mill "would convert a public services crisis into a disaster."

Some 650 county jobs are already vacant due to the fiscal crisis and hiring has been "frozen" by the County Board of Commissioners.

The request for endorsement was made by the Steering Committee for County Proposition B. Its co-chairmen are County Board Chairman Robert E. Fitzpatrick and Robert Johnson, President of Council 23, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

Child's play slated

A children's play entitled "Peter the Piper" will be presented at 2 p.m. July 28 at the Romulus High School auditorium.

Co-sponsored by the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation and the Romulus City Players, the play will include in its cast a number of local children.

An adult play, "Toby Tyler," is being rehearsed for showing at 8 p.m. Aug. 4 at Romulus High School.

Moose Lodge gets things done

By EDWARD SHUMBERA
The Belleville Lodge 934 Fire-Safety Project is still under way for the communities of Belleville, Van Buren Township and Sumpter Township.
The program makes window stickers available to homes where there are invalid, convalescent, inform and aged persons or very young children.
In case of fire, the fire department upon arrival will look for these luminescent window stickers. If one is found, that room will be checked right away.

This fire safety program will result in many lives being saved and will also be a great aid to all fire and police departments in doing their work of protecting the communities.

All members of Belleville Lodge 934 are urged to report homes where these stickers would be helpful to the occupants. The public also can receive these window stickers by calling the Lodge Home at 699-9311.
Mail request will also be answered.

The International Loyal Order of Moose Convention at Jacksonville, Fla. is history. Gov. George Manley and Secretary Edward Shumbera report there were more than 7,000 Moose members and co-workers in attendance.

The visit to Moosehaven, City of Contentment, was marred by an all-day rain. However, it was a great inspiration to see what is being done for oldsters of the Loyal Order of Moose during their stay.

Anyone who has not had the opportunity to visit Mooseheart and Moosehaven should do so if the chance arrives. A visit to either place will explain a great deal to our members who do not fully understand what the Loyal Order of Moose stands for.

Quite a few people feel this is a social club. Far from it, even though they have social doings. By being a member of the Moose, portions of the dues paid and monies from other events help maintain Mooseheart, the Child City, and Moosehaven, City of Contentment.

Mooseheart provides a home, education, clothing, etc. to children of Moose members, who have lost one or both of their parents, or other cases of hardship that may have developed. These children are admitted to Mooseheart if all qualifications are met.

The families are not broken up until each child gets older and graduates. Still the family ties are not broken.

Each graduate leaves Mooseheart with an education, a skill trade and a very good chance in the world to survive. In fact, this writer has not heard of any Mooseheart graduate who has failed.

Moosehaven provides a home for older Moose members and their wives a place to while away their remaining years if they are unable to do things. If they are able, they are given work on the grounds to make them feel useful and also receive a small pay for it.

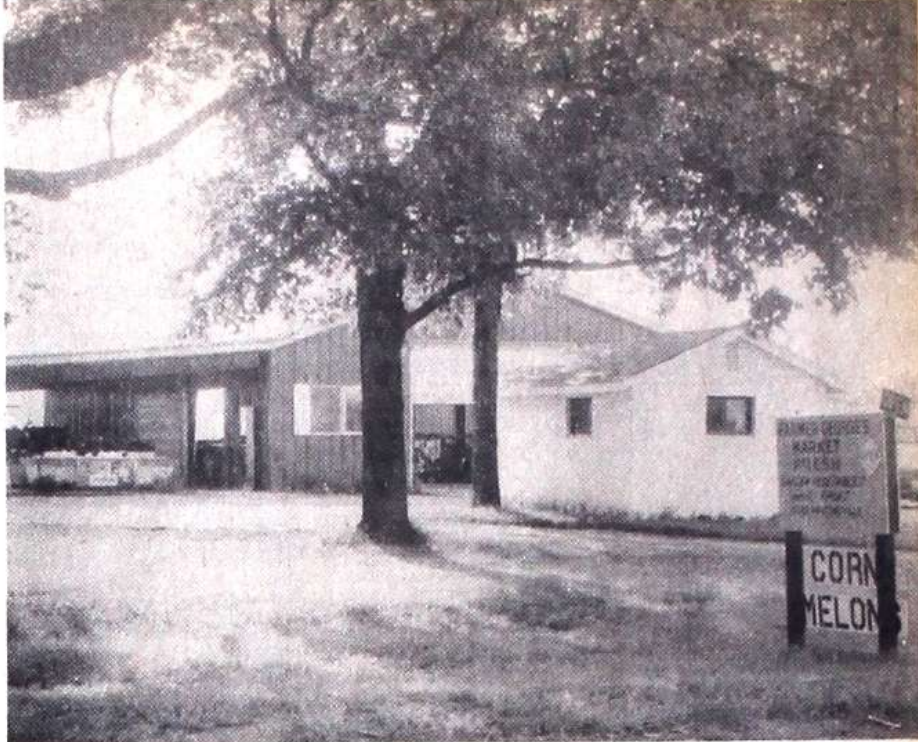

So let us remember, when someone states that the Loyal

Order of Moose is a social club, make it a point to say yes, we have social doings for our members, but that is not the main function of the Moose.

Coming events — tonight — officers meeting at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, enrollment ceremony at 8 p.m., dinner will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. by the Women of the Moose. Dancing will follow the enrollment at 9:30 p.m.

Plans are in the making for a possible Bob-Lo cruise for the first part of August. More information on this later. Aug. 27 is the date for Belleville Lodge 934 annual picnic, which will be held at Susterka's. There will also be a dance at the grounds, with Wayne Kelley providing the music.

Members are urged to attend membership meetings, which are held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

FARM MARKET OPENS — Farmer George's Market will be catering to all area residents who enjoy fresh fruit and vegetables or like to pick their own food. The market is located at 16280 Martinsville, Rd.,

Van Buren Township. Customers are welcome to pick their own vegetables or buy them picked in the farm market. Free buttered corn on the cob will be given away on July 22 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Customers can buy or pick vegetables

For those who like the taste of fresh fruits and vegetables or for those who enjoy picking their own goodies, Farmer George's Market is just the thing.

The market, owned and operated by Charles Paas, is located at 16280 Martinsville Rd., Van Buren Township, just two miles southeast of downtown Belleville.

The 120-acre farm is devoted primarily to the scientific raising of high quality garden vegetables. A 4,600-square-foot building was built in 1972 to market the vegetables in a pleasant, wholesome atmosphere.

The farm is set up so that customers can pick their own at a savings or they can purchase picked vegetables and fruits in the farm market.

An extensive irrigation system was installed this year to provide engineered rain and prevent loss by drought. Major crops planted in 1972 are sweet corn, strawberries, cucumbers, melons, several varieties of beans and peppers, cabbage.

Paas was in the electrical contracting business prior to purchasing the farm eight years ago. His family hobby is raising Morgan horses at Thornhollow Farm, 15951 Haggerty Rd., Belleville.

Hot buttered sweet corn will be given to the public on July 22 from 1 to 5 p.m. If it rains, the date will be July 23, from 1 to 5 p.m.

A free ticket will be given away to customers with each purchase for a bushel of vegetables.

GRANNY AT WORK — Esther Cant of 9050 Whitehorn, Romulus, better known as Granny to her fellow senior citizens, works busily on an afghan while a sample of her crocheted pillow cases sits on her lap. An immigrant from England, she was 87 years old Sunday and has lived in Romulus for 34 years. Enterprise-Roman photos by Lothar Konietzko

ADMIRE HUSBAND'S WORK — Mrs. Frank R. Johnson, 79, of 34960 Grant Rd., admires her husband's work while she holds a pillow she made. Johnson, who is 83, has helped the women in the club by making wooden loops for them to use when making hairpin lace. The couple has been married for 59 years.

What they want is what they get

Senior citizens enjoy exhibitions

Both point out that Romulus probably has about 500 oldsters who would benefit from the club's activities, and the two are anxious to get the other 350 out.

"We would like to get more," Mrs. Pritula comments while watching the seniors enjoy the two dancers take dips around the floor. "But a lot said they didn't want to be in the public," she added.

The seniors are hesitant to leave their homes, many fearful of what will happen if they remain unguarded. Even those who do belong to the club have nixed an idea for an entertainment night, Tolish said, because they didn't feel safe going out after dark.

Although the club only conducts its business meetings once a month, the seniors gather weekly.

"They plan from Tuesday to Tuesday," says Mrs. Pritula, who appears to enjoy the meeting almost as much as the oldsters.

Both she and Tolish are quick to mention how much the city council and mayor have helped out in making the program a success.

In addition to funding the program, the city has agreed to let the club have the recreation center in the basement of the municipal building every Tuesday.

Tolish, however, is looking for more funds. He is attempting to work up a program whereby he will be able to get federal funds to sponsor more club activities.

At the present time he feels the Romulus seniors are not as active as those in surrounding communities, where the clubs have been more firmly established for a longer period of time.

However, the list of speakers and programs which the seniors already have enjoyed is impressive.

The group has heard from representatives of the Michigan State Police, the Soil Conservation Service and Social Security Office. In the future, he will schedule a speaker from the American Red Cross.

The oldsters have viewed a square dance exhibition, seen films on home security and enjoyed plant-flower exchanges.

Tolish also is hoping to get a lawyer to address the group on drawing up wills.

Picnics are held during good weather. Mrs. Pritula also is hoping to complete plans for a trip to Bob-Lo, which the seniors have requested. When the weather prohibits outdoor activities, there's a list of indoor programs which are enjoyed by all.

Perhaps the most popular, at least for the women, is needlecraft and handwork. The seniors can fill tables full of handmade toys, afghans, pillows, layettes, sweaters, and other handmade items.

A bazaar is planned in September, when many of the items will go on sale.

Bingo, a longtime favorite with all seniors groups, is another pastime, with the winners taking home canned goods.

The men get together for friendly card games while the women sew. Some have been known to enjoy an occasional monopoly game as well.

The group resembles a little community within itself. The Rev. Willie Horne of 34990 Beverly, 73-year-old pastor of the Apostolic Pentecostal Church, delivers the prayers.

An ex-policeman from Detroit, Fred L. White of 11279 Wahrman, gives a formidable appearance, even for his 69 years.

And 76-year-old Ernest Block can fiddle a "Turkey in the Straw" to match any from Hee-Haw.

Yet, Tolish and Mrs. Pritula still feel more should participate in the group's activities. A newsletter has been established in an attempt to open the communications between the recreation department and the community, to let them know what they're missing, which appears to be a lot.

Even friendships have been restored, according to Mrs. Pritula, such as the time when two friends formerly from England met at the club after not seeing each other for a quarter of a century.

Scouts camp at lake

Boy Scout Troop 793 of Belleville returned recently from a week-long trip to Silver Lake Scout Camp, accompanied on the bus by Troop 231, also of Belleville. Twenty-five scouts from troop 793, which is sponsored by the St. Anthony Church, were accompanied by five leaders, Anthony Talaga Jr., Harold Innes Jr., Ed Lauth, Robert Lentz and Warren Branscomb.

The week was packed with merit badge and rank advancement activities, including work on fishing, rowing, camping, cooking, conservation of natural resources and swimming badges, plus hikes for rank advancements.

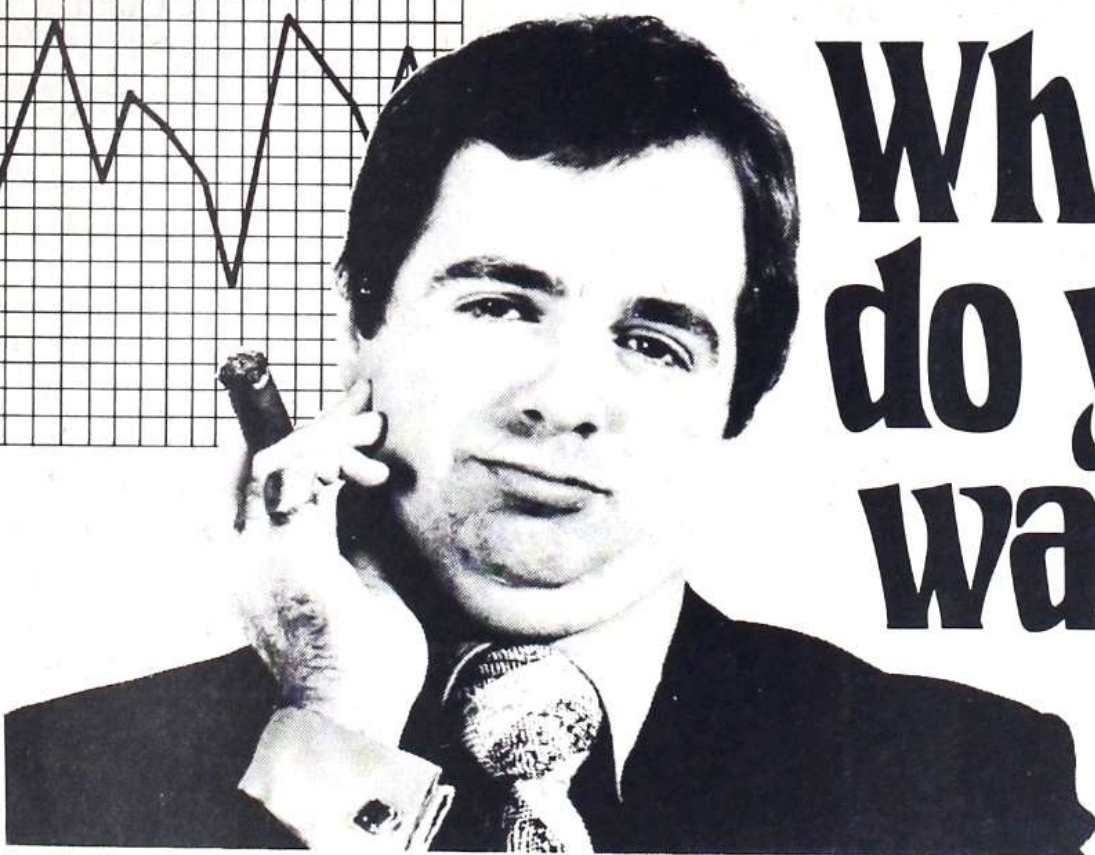

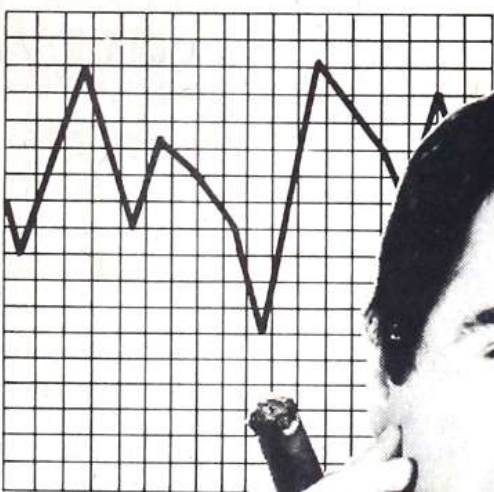

During the trip the troop attended Mass at the Catholic Shrine and toured the grounds at Indian River, plus visiting Mackinaw City and Fort Michilimackinac.

On the weekend the scouts camped in the Irish Hills to complete the requirements for the cooking and fishing merit badges.

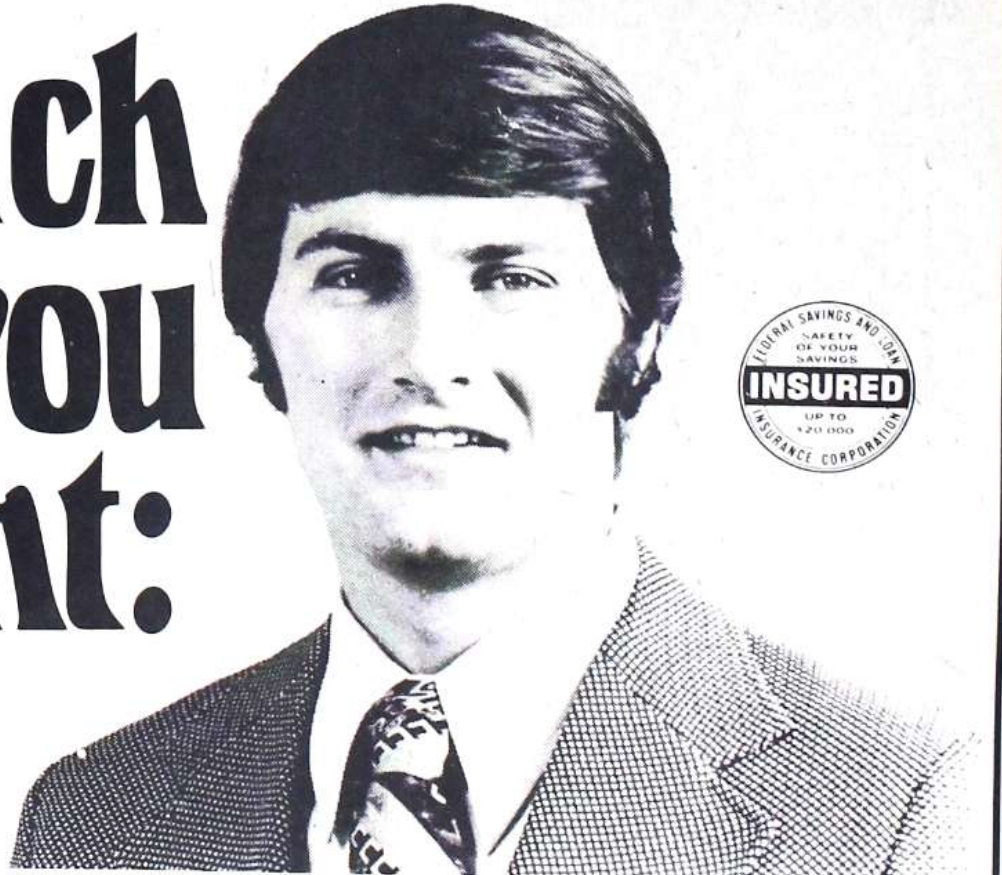

A court of honor will be held on July 24, where advancement and badges earned at Silver Lake will be presented.

All boys ages 11 to 18 who are interested in joining Troop 793 are welcome to attend the troop meetings every Monday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Father Folta Building at St. Anthony Church.

Any adult who would like to work with the boys also is invited to attend.

ELECTION NOTICE

To the qualified Electors of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SAID COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, IN THE REGULAR VOTING PLACE IN EACH ELECTION PRECINCT IN EACH CITY AND TOWNSHIP IN THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, ON TUESDAY, THE 8TH DAY OF AUGUST, 1972, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 7:00 O'CLOCK A.M. AND 8:00 O'CLOCK P.M., THE FOLLOWING PROPOSITION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORS OF SAID COUNTY:

COUNTY PROPOSITION — TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

"Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1975 through 1979) the one mill approved by the voters in 1968 for five years from 1970 through 1974, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis?"

All registered electors may vote on the Tax Limitation Proposition.

This proposition is being submitted in accordance with the following resolution duly adopted by the Board of Commissioners of said County on the 1st day of June, 1972.

RESOLUTION OF BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE

WHEREAS, the voters of Wayne County on September 1, 1964, did approve a one mill tax levy increase ($1.00 per $1,000 of State equalized valuation) for a period of 5 years from 1965 through 1969; and

WHEREAS, the voters of Wayne County on August 6, 1968, approved a renewal of this millage for a period of 5 years from 1970 through 1974; and

WHEREAS, this one mill was absolutely essential to provide basic County services in such areas as hospitalization for the medically indigent and aged poor and for caring and training of juveniles under County care, providing treatment for the mentally ill, and those suffering from tuberculosis, and for maintaining adequate public health, recreation and safety services; and

WHEREAS, the County has no alternative but to seek the voters' approval for the continuation of the existing one mill extra voted levy in order to maintain minimum essential services; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the Board of Commissioners of the County of Wayne, this 1st day of June, 1972:

1. That there be submitted to the qualified electorate of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, at the primary election to be held in said County on Tuesday, August 8, 1972:

COUNTY PROPOSITION — TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

"Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1975 through 1979) the one mill approved by the voters in 1968 for five years from 1970 through 1974, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis?"

2. Said proposition shall be prepared and distributed by the County in the manner provided by law, which statement on the voting machines and ballots shall state the proposition in the form set forth in the preceding paragraph.
3. All public officials of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, and all municipal units thereof, within such time as shall be required by law be, and they hereby are, directed to do and perform all acts and things which shall be necessary to be done or performed in order to submit the foregoing proposition to the electorate of said County at such primary election to be held on Tuesday, August 8, 1972.

Knob-on-the-Lake golf course opens

By JIM FREER
Sports Writer

Area golfers have a new course on which to test their skills. Knob-on-the-Lake Golf Club, a nine-hole layout which is adjacent to the Belleville apartment complex of the same name, opened for play two Saturdays ago.

The course has a par of 36 and plays to a length of 3065 yards from the men's tees. It lengthens to 3233 yards for the championship tees and shortens to 2763 yards for the women's tees.

It was designed primarily for residents of Knob-on-the-Lake Apartments, but Bill Poore, who serves as the manager of both the course and the apartment complex, stresses that the public is welcome.

"This course is open to everyone," said Poore. "We naturally will try to cater to the people who live here, but there should always be plenty of room for anyone who wants to come out to play."

Poore is a partner in Frank J. Volk & Associates of Dearborn, the company which built and owns Knob-on-the-Lake.

Frank Volk, the company's president, conceived the idea of a building a golf course on the property.

"We started work on the course in the fall of 1971, shortly after the apartments were open for occupancy," said Poore.

"We hired C.E. Robinson, a golf course architect from Toronto, and the Gunter Construction Company of Holly did the work. Ken Baillargeon, our head groundskeeper, and Carl Kinsley, his assistant, got the course in shape during the spring and early summer and we opened as scheduled on July 8."

Both Baillargeon and Kinsley are former assistant groundskeepers at the Dearborn Country Club.

Doug Erb, the Belleville course's pro, also came to Knob-on-the-Lake from the Dearborn Country Club.

"We're very pleased to have Doug here," said Poore. "He worked for five years under Dearborn's Faust Bianco, who everyone considers to be one of the best teaching pros in the area."

Erb, a graduate of Eastern Michigan University, worked as an assistant pro in Florida before returning to his native Dearborn in 1967.

Doug has the best 18-hole score, a four-under-par 68, on the recently opened course. He regards the course as "a good test of golf."

"It has just about everything a course needs," said the Knob-on-the-Lake professional. "It's not an executive course, but we have good length, bunkers on every hole, and with the exception of the two par threes only one of the holes is straight."

The course has three ponds and a lake, with the water presenting its greatest hazards on the third hole, a 113-yard par three, and the

Wayne football coach resigns

WAYNE GORMAN

Wayne Gorman, who forged two football championship teams in three seasons at Wayne Memorial, has resigned as head football coach.

The 32-year-old grid strategist said he plans to pursue his masters degree.

"We always approached football on the basis of total involvement," said Gorman, "and I feel I would be cheating the boys if I didn't. I don't want to make football my life and I want to pursue other aspects of education, therefore, I resigned."

Gorman pointed out that the new Michigan High School Athletic Association ruling that approved summer practice sessions would mean that he would be taken away from his family 12 months out of the year.

In the three years as head coach Gorman has fielded two championship squads. Last season the Zebras finished with a 6-2 won-lost record and a half of the Mid-Wayne Conference title. In the 1970 Wayne, then competing in the Sauk Trail, won a third of the title after knocking off a top-ranked state power, Ypsilanti.

In his inaugural year Gorman's team finished with a 4-4-1 record. The five previous years before the Gorman era Wayne Memorial was a cellar-dweller.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Gorman arrived at Wayne Memorial after serving as head football coach at Aquinas High.

"I'm really proud at what we accomplished at Wayne during the three years," said Gorman, "it has been an enjoyable and rewarding experience."

Belleville High School Track Coach Ken Head has been selected by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States as an active participant in the First Annual Track Coaching Technique Clinic, which is scheduled for July 24 through July 28 at Sacramento (Calif.) State College.

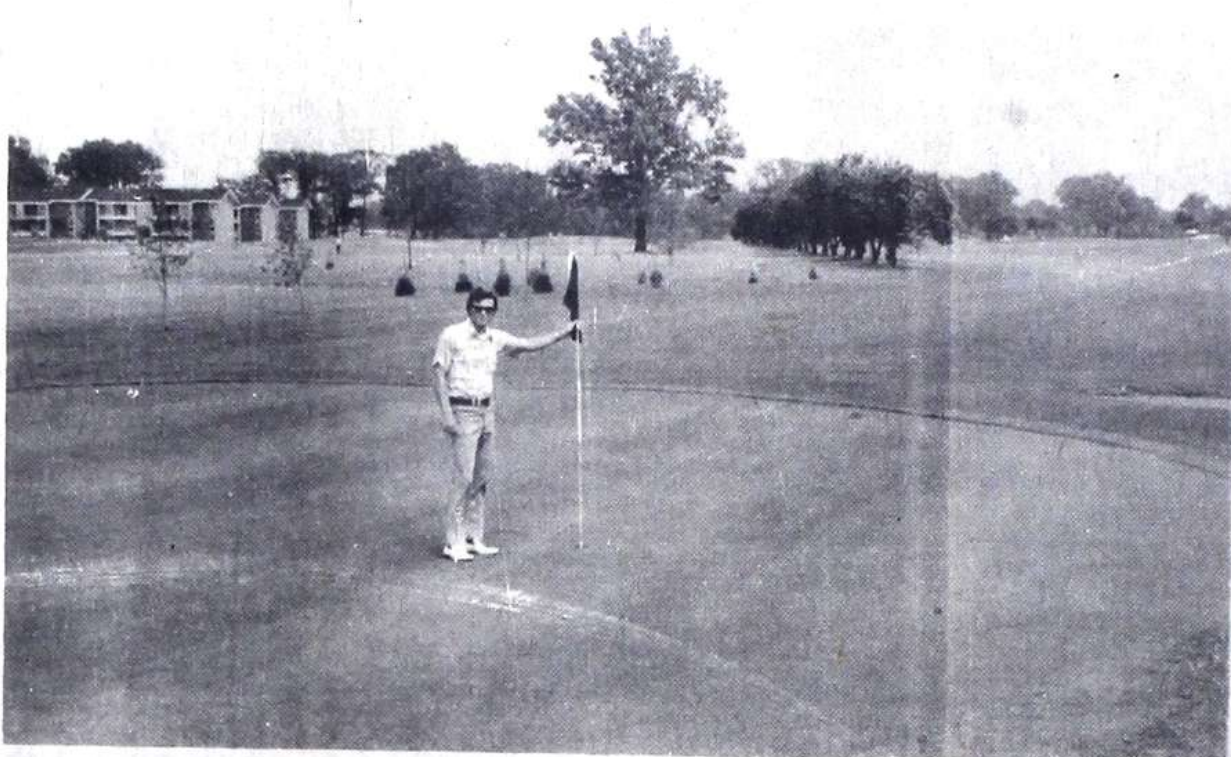

A total of 300 track and field coaches from throughout the United States were chosen from the more than 23,000 track coaches in the country.

The clinic will be sponsored by Chevrolet and will be directed by two-time Sullivan Award winner Fred Wilt, a veteran track coach and clinic administrator.

"This clinic is based on a learn-by-doing theory," said Wilt. "Therefore all these coaches will be active participants, gaining actual practice in some of the technique events we're stressing."

Twenty coaches from other nations have also been invited to be instructors at the clinic.

WHO'LL GET FIRST ACE?—The beautiful Knob on the Lake golf course in Belleville is the newest challenge for area golfers, and one of the interesting questions that only time will answer is, "Who'll get the first hole-in-one?" Doug Erb, the course pro, holds the flag on the green as if to challenge the linksmen to come out and try for the elusive ace.

Spearman's Fine Foods wrapped up the western title with a pair of victories last week, beating Coughlin Air 6 to 1 on Tuesday and Walter's Bar 13 to 6 Thursday.

Spearman's extended its lead over the pack by six lengths with five games to play.

Spearman's scored all its runs in the opening inning against Coughlin Air when Darwin Wessel singled, Lorie Parker was safe on an error Rich Spearman and Bob Eggers doubled. Then, Bill Howell singled and Taylor tripled setting up Spearman's final run.

Winning pitcher Rich Koklia rapped a single.

Don Twitchel was the defensive star of the game making several outstanding grabs in the outfield.

Bob Eggers at four for four and Rich Koklia at three for four led Spearman's 17 hit attack Thursday against Walter's. Spearman, Twitchel and Wojiski chipped in a pair each.

Ted Dyer slammed a three-run homer for Walter's Bar. Rich Koklia was on the mound for the 14th time this season for Spearman's.

Morgan Manor took over first place in the east for two days by dumping Romulus Progressive Club 5 to 4 on Tuesday. The two teams posted "goose eggs" through the first four innings before Morgan broke through for three in the top of the fifth.

Ray Muck opened the fifth with a double, then Ron Jones singled. Ross Holmes followed with a two-run triple and he scored on Pete Molnar's single.

Two errors in the sixth gave Morgan their final two runs. Jody Gomez singled, Ray Muck was safe on a miscue and Ron Jones singled scoring Gomez. Muck also scored when the throw to the plate went awry.

Trailing by five, Progressive threatened to pull it out in the last of the seventh, falling one run short.

John Sterling opened the frame with a single, Ken Meintkiewicz also singled, pinch-hitter Al Ellis drew a walk and Ron Dick bounced to the pitcher, who tossed home forcing Sterling for the second out.

Hugh Miller then doubled scoring two. Walt Drewno singled home two more before reached base on an error, Hugh Miller forced Drewno and scored when Ron Dick's fly ball was dropped.

Coughlin scored five in its half of the frame. Leon James opened with his second double of the game and Bob Brothers, Pennington and Ed Lobato followed with singles. Jr. Rakotz walked and Tom Block delivered a two run single. Worden also singled in the final run that proved to be the winner.

Trailing by four, Chuck Earl, Bob Zygal and Jim Halcorn singled to open Progressive's seventh. John Sterling lifted a sacrifice fly and Bill Reiber was safe on an error, scoring Zygal. But Halcorn was retired trying to reach third on the play.

Mack '9's beaten

Both of Belleville's Connie Mack Baseball League teams dropped two games over the weekend.

The Belleville Merchants lost a pair of contests to Stein & Gates of Ann Arbor by scores of 8-1 and 6-0.

American Waste of Belleville bowed to Ypsilanti, 5-4, and Leno of Ann Arbor, 4-0.

The Merchants dropped out of first place with their losses. They now have a 10-4 record and are tied for second place, one game behind Stein & Gates (11-3).

American Waste has a 4-10 mark.

The Connie Mack League will close out its regular season over the upcoming weekend.

The league's All-Star game will be played at 8 p.m. Saturday at Veterans Park in Ann Arbor.

Belleville Merchant manager Bill Cummings will head the East All-Stars as CLOSE ALL THE WAY—Coughlin base-runner Rick Paglia is erased from the paths as he hits the dirt going into second base. However his attempt to slow down John Sterling who fires the ball to first to try to complete the double play is successful as the Progressives got only one out on this play. They also were left holding an 8-7 loss as Coughlin climbed into a two-way tie for first in Romulus' Eastern Division.

The nearest boxing school in the area is in Dearborn.

But if an ex-Marine gets his way, one will be established in the Wayne-Westland-Livonia area.

Russ Gilbert, foreman for the Westland Parks and Recreation Department who at one time was heavyweight boxing champion of six marine divisions in the Pacific during World War II, believes the time is right to organize the boxing school.

"When I was in the service I promised that if I ever got back I would help the youngsters coming up," said Gilbert.

Gilbert, who was one of four who survived the war out of a company of 74, has kept that promise. For 16 years, he has been training boys in the Dearborn area in a program that is they face the West All-Stars of Stein & Gate manager Bob Ufer.

Eight Belleville players are on the East All-Star team.

Al Cicotte, Larry Fix, Tim Vance, Ed Brannum, and Vern Gowen are the Merchant All-Stars.

Larry Farr, Doug Raymond, and Gary Van Buhlar are the American Waste representatives on the All-Star team.

The regular season ends Sunday with the Belleville Merchants playing American Waste at 2 p.m. at the Belleville High School Field.

set up by the Dearborn Parks and Recreation Department.

"I think it's time we had a school in this area," points out Gilbert. "All we need are some interested boys, ages 12 and up, who would like to learn the manly art of self-defense."

A Westland resident, Gilbert recalled when the Wayne Parks and Recreation had such a program twenty years ago. It was organized by Harry Ranch, the then parks and recreation director.

"That was some 20 years ago, however. The sport was really popular and since they cut boxing out in the colleges and high schools, the sport has been on the wane."

The Olympics has helped revive the sport, according to Gilbert who has put on most of the boxing shows in the area and also taught the junior deputies in the Wayne County Sheriff's Department "a few years back".

Gilbert, who grew up in southwest Detroit, dropped out of high school in his senior year to turn professional.

"I was getting pretty good, so I went up to Saginaw. But while working in a metal shop I was hit in the nose by a piece of steel and that did it."

"I returned to Detroit and went back to school and got my diploma."

After World War II, Gilbert took up residency in Dearborn where, in 1947, he started to train youngsters, using his garage for a gym.

"Up to 57 kids would report," recalled Gilbert, who is now 52-years-old, "we needed more room and the VFW came to our help and gave us their hall a couple of nights a week."

"Then George Martin (Circuit Court Judge) and Bill Ross Editor-Publisher of a weekly newspaper in Dearborn) helped in forming the Dearborn Boxing Club."

Russ has been working with kids in that area for nearly two decades.

And if you feel you'll like to belong to the area club, phone 722-7620 and ask for Gilbert.

Meanwhile, Kid McCoy, who manages a couple of outstanding heavyweights, wants to bring boxing to Garden City. He has organized a five-bout card that will be staged on Saturday, July 22.

McCoy's proteges include Gary Bentley, recently crowned state heavyweight champ, and 6-6 Ron Gentry of Bloomfield Hills.

"Some folks feel that I have two of the finest young heavyweights in the Mid-west" said McCoy, "and these two boys really look good."

McCoy said his boxers would by-pass the Olympics this year "in order to pick up some more experience."

Girls wind up season

Two more games remain on the schedule for the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation Woman's Softball team.

Tonight the women will play Kelsey Hayes at Romulus Junior High School. Practice will begin at 5:30 p.m., with the game slated to begin at 6.

Next Wednesday the team will tackle Wayne at the same location. Practice will begin at 6, with the game at 6:30.

absorbed his third loss of the season.

Larry Umfleet held Morgan Manor to six hits in leading Romulus Welding to a 5 to 3 upset win. Losing pitcher Ray Muck clouted a two-run homer. Morgan's loss dropped them back into a first place tie with Coughlin Air.

fourth, a 477-yard par five with a dogleg to the left.

The fourth, one of the course's most challenging holes, has fairway bunkers about 250 yards out from the tee, and Erb points to this as one of the course's best features.

"The bunkers on the fourth are beyond the range of the average player, but they present a definite hazard to the top-flight golfer," said Erb. "We've done the same thing on several other holes. We tried to make things so they would challenge the scratch player, but not frustrate the average golfer."

"We had the same philosophy in mind with the women's tees," he continued. "We tried to place them so they would not have to be fighting all of the trouble the men face off the tee."

A driving range will soon be completed on the course and Erb will spend a major portion of his time giving lessons.

There are also four tennis courts on the premises and Poore's future plans include expanding the tennis facilities and hiring a teaching pro.

But golf is the main attraction at Knob-on-the-Lake right now, and Erb hopes that the course will see a lot of play during the rest of this summer.

"We had about 100 people out the day we opened and we averaged about 30 per day during the first week," he said. "We hope to have bigger turnouts in the weeks to come."

The greens fee for nine holes is $2.50 for Knob-on-the-Lake residents and $3.00 for guests. The 18-hole greens fees are $4.00 and $5.00.

Knob-on-the-Lake is located southwest of the Belleville Road-194 interchange, at Denton and Beckley Roads.

Slo-Pitch tourney talks set

A second call has gone out for service clubs, organizations and Wayne residents to enter the second annual Summer Festival Slo-Pitch Tourney.

Eligibility calls for membership in the club or organization located in Wayne, residency in the city or a city employee.

The meeting of team managers is set for July 20th at a site yet to be selected. Managers of teams taking part in the tourney are requested to be on hand and have 15-man roster to turn in to check for eligibility.

Currently, the Jaycees, City Employee All-Stars, Moose, Police, Michigan Bell, and two neighborhood teams are committed to play in the week long tourney.

For additional information, adults should call Jim Thompson, Tourney director, at 722-6795.

WHAT A SHOT—Dan Featheringill (left), 14, of Belleville, points to hole he was aiming for when he captured first place in the Van Buren Township Recreation Hole-In-One Contest last week. His ball landed 2 feet, 11 inches from the hole early in the contest, making it tough for everyone all afternoon. He will receive a family membership to the new golf course located in Grass Lake, "The Boondocks or K-Golf. With Dan is Gary Jackson of Ypsilanti, who squeaked one inside Dan's at 1 foot, 10 inches, but Gary was ineligible for any prizes since he is an employee of K-Golf, which donated its facilities for the contest.

For City Golf Championships Tourney deadline set

With entries beginning to slowly flow in, it's time to set a deadline for the 1972 City Championship Golf Tourney.

The tournament will be staged on the weekend of Aug. 19-20 at Dun Rovin Golf Course, 16377 Haggerty Rd., in Plymouth.

In order to set up tee times, an Aug. 15th final entry date has been established. All entries must reach The Daily Eagle Sports Desk or the recreation departments on that date in order for the golfer to be eligible to compete.

Golfers from Canton, Inkster, Wayne, Westland and Garden City will vie for separate city championships simultaneously on the 6750 yard, par 72 course. Only amateur male golfers of all five communities are eligible.

If total entry is sufficient, additional flight competitions will be conducted for each city.

The entry fee, which covers trophy and golfing, is $13.50. Trophies will be awarded by the recreation department to first, second, third place finishers in each flight and an additional trophy will go to the individual low scorer of the entire field (medalist).

The low five scorers from each community will be eligible to play on city teams in the state recreation golf tournament to be held in September. All golfers will become alternates in order of finish.

Any golfer who lives or works for a tax-paying or tax supported institution in any city is eligible to compete for city championships of that city, however, only bona fide residents may represent a city on the team in the state tourney.

Entries will be accepted at city recreation offices, The Daily Eagle Sports Desk. If you wish to mail in your entry, address it to Daily Eagle, Sports Desk, 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Please make checks payable to the City Championship Golf Tournament.

Additional information can be obtained by phoning Sports Editor Tom Mooradian or Sports Writer Jim Freer at 729-4000.

Here's the answer

By ANDY LANG

Q.—I bought some welded-wire fabric for use in reinforcing concrete in a project I have coming up soon. The roll is marked 6 x 6, 10-10. What does that mean?

A.—It means the wires are 6 inches apart and are 10 gauge.

Q.—I recently bought some shellac and used it right from the container. It didn't dry properly. What caused this?

A.—It could be that the shellac was too old. But a more likely cause is that it was applied on a very humid day. Did you dilute the shellac with denatured alcohol? This makes it easier to apply and helps it to dry more quickly.

Q.—Several weeks ago I used some latex redwood stain, but didn't have time to finish the job. When I resumed, I found bubbles forming on the surface of the wood. Why did this happen the second time and not the first?

A.—I can only guess at the answer. If, after you finished the job the first time, you washed the brush in soap and water, as is often recommended on the can of stain, you may have failed to wash out all of the soap. In reusing the stain, the soap was reactivated.

Q.—The shutoff valve under our kitchen sink leaks a little. We have been keeping a pan under it to catch the water. The leak is at the handle and so tiny that it fills the pan only half way every 24 hours, but I would like to be able to fix it without calling in a plumber. Can you help me?

A.—Most of the time you can halt the leak merely by tightening the nut behind the handle. Turn it just a bit and see what happens. If the leak persists after 5 minutes, turn the nut just a bit more. Remember that it must be turned clockwise. If these two efforts produce no results, turn off the water, remove the nut and wind some plumber's cord around the stem and replace the nut. You can get the cord at a hardware store. Tell the dealer what you want it for, as there are several different kinds.

Q.—Our attic fan has been running well for two years, but lately has started to vibrate and make a noise. How can I halt this?

A.—Generally, this is caused by something having come loose in the mounting. You'll just have to examine the installation and see what is not firmly in place. If you can't determine what is loose, you have no choice but to call a repairman.

Q.—How can I tell a termite from a flying ant?

A.—If that means you have found one or more around your house, better have it checked by a professional exterminator or a county or state entomologist. But if you want to try to make an identification by yourself, the termite's body is of the same thickness all the way. The ant's body is shaped like an hourglass. The termite has four wings of the same length. The ant has two short wings and two long wings. The termite's wings are opaque, the ant's transparent.

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

PROTECTING PATIO DOOR — Double-purpose film converts dangerous patio doors to safety glazing, without spoiling the view. Lightly metallized, Solar-X reflective film rejects from 50 to 80 per cent of the solar heat and glare, depending upon the type selected.

Film reduces glass dangers

Are you afraid of your storm doors and glass patio doors? Dangerous glass in hazardous locations in homes and offices can be converted to meet national safety glazing standards by applying a tough, film laminate, according to the manufacturer. This is the first product with which home owners or building managers can convert regular glass to meet a legally-defined safety standard, without replacing the glass itself. Called Solar-X, the film is supplied in door-size sheets or rolls for do-it-yourselfers, or can be professionally applied.

on the street below, if broken by vandals, storms or other causes.

On residential windows, film laminates make it difficult for the amateur thief to gain entrance by breaking window or door glass, because of the noise and time involved to open a large enough hole to get at the locks or catches.

Seventeen states now have safety glazing laws prohibiting the use of regular glass in storm doors, patio doors, tub enclosures and in glass entrance doors and side panels. (Status of your state's safety glazing legislation?)

Solar-X is available as a clear, colorless film for storm doors. Patio doors and windows use either clear or a reflective (semi-mirrored) version that permits vision but rejects solar heat and glare and provides daytime privacy.

Both clear and reflective films provide the added advantage of screening out ultraviolet rays that cause fading.

Permanently bonded to the glass with its self-adhesive surface, the film is weather-proof. But usually is installed inside. If glass is broken in an accident, the danger of serious cutting or piercing injuries is minimized, because the film holds the glass in place and forces it to break into small pieces if "holed."

Glass accidents kill or injure 225,000 Americans each year, (U.S. Public Health Service) because regular glass breaks into long, razor sharp daggers, which slice deeply, or drop onto the victim.

Film laminates also prevent broken glass from flying, offering protection in commercial buildings, where large windows would endanger occupants or persons

Safety film is applied by hanging the film sheet from a door or window frame while a protective film is removed, exposing an optically-flat, self-adhesive surface. Spraying with soapy water makes the adhesive temporarily non-sticky, so that it can be maneuvered and straightened when turned to the glass surface. The film is smoothed flat, removing the water, with a rubber window cleaning squeegee.

Alkali requires special paint

By ANDY LANG

The presence of alkali in concrete, cinder and other types of masonry makes it imperative that special attention be given to the kind of paint used.

Unless a paint is resistant to alkali, it is only a question of time before it will eat through the paint film. Most oil paints do not have this resistance, although those formulated for use on floors have that desirable quality.

In recent years, latex masonry paint has become increasingly popular because it resists alkali. However, it is important to read the label on the container before you make a purchase to determine that it will meet your needs and that you understand exactly how it is to be applied. For example, if you plan on painting masonry exposed to the weather, be sure the label specifies that it can be used outdoors. The same precaution is necessary if a masonry floor is to be painted; some masonry paints are better than others for this purpose. While the manufacturer is likely to give you an honest appraisal of his product for special purposes, since he wants you for a repeat customer, don't buy if it doesn't specifically say that the paint can be used outside or for floors.

The old standby for masonry is portland cement paint. It sinks into the masonry and provides an excellent seal as well as a finish coat. The surface must be dampened before the paint is applied. Portland cement cannot be used over any other type of paint. Thus, the masonry must be free of paint or have previously been painted with portland cement. This paint is good for walls, not too good for floors.

Solvent-thinned resin paints, sometimes referred to as swimming pool paints, are alkali-resistant and virtually waterproof. They must be applied only to dry surfaces. There are other kinds of masonry paints, including so-called catalyst coatings. They usually are more expensive than other kinds, but should be considered if special problems exist.

As with wood, the preparation of the surface to be painted is of the utmost importance. Remove dirt and dust with vigorous brushing. Take off oil and grease with a solvent. Scrape to remove peeling paint. When there is chalking of the masonry, use a masonry conditioner before applying the paint. Any metal fasteners in the masonry must be primed if latex paint will come in contact with them or you will have a rust problem. White deposits which sometimes appear on the outside of brick should be removed with muriatic acid, thinned according to directions. Since this is a strong chemical, wear rubber gloves and work very carefully.

One half of all owner-occupied homes are debt-free, but most are years old and need modernization.

His many friends in this area are cordially invited to turn out Sunday for the benefit "Christmas in July" Horse Show being given for Eugene (Santa) Gribble of Aston Street, Romulus.

The all-day show will start at 8:30 a.m. at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Quirk Road in Belleville.

There will be a concession stand on the grounds so bring the whole family and help make it a big day for "Santa" Gribble, who is seriously ill with cancer.

The benefit horse show is being sponsored by 4-H members and leaders of today and "yesterday." Admission is $1. Children under 10 years will be admitted free.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McLeod of Burton Street enjoyed a reunion with their four sons and their families over the Fourth of July weekend.

Tom and his wife, Sandi, and their two daughters came from San Jose, Calif. Cecil and his wife, Sharlee, and two children arrived from San Diego, Calif.; Charles, his wife, Marlene, and four children, and Stewart, his wife, Betty, and their three children all came from their homes in Westland.

This is the first time since Christmas of 1958 that the family has all been together. The eleven cousins had a great time getting acquainted with each other.

The Ladies' Missionary Group will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Calvary Baptist Church on Ozga Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cichowski of Walnut Drive are parents of a seven-pound, 10-ounce daughter born July 13, at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne. The infant, the young couple's first child, was named "Cara Lynn." Mrs. Cichowski is the former Susan Wahrman of Wahrman Road.

There will be a Wayne County Fairboard meeting on Tuesday, at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the 4-H Fairgrounds on Quirk Road, Belleville. Further plans will be made for the 1972 4-H Fair scheduled for August 15-20.

Mrs. Mary Lou Fox of Huron River Drive South and her sisters, Mrs. Steve (Flora) Enzer of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Alan (Marie) Dykowski of Ann Arbor sang, "I Believe," as guest vocalists at the 11 a.m. worship service at the United Methodist Church.

They were directed and accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Ada Scott. The following morning Mrs. Enzer and her husband left on an extended motor and hiking trip into Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Poet of St. Petersburg, Fla., (formerly of Romulus) were surprised last week when their former daughter-in-law, Mrs. Janette Murphy of Wabash Street, Romulus, and three of their grandchildren visited them. Mr. Poet has been in Bayfront Medical Center but has returned home and is slowly improving.

Two summer 4-H program aids, Colleen Brunning and Barbara Weiland, are working at the 4-H Office in Wayne this summer. The two are busy making a survey of leaders' needs and concerns which will be used to help plan more effective programs for next year. They ask the cooperation of local leaders.

Miss Debbie Ramansky of 30220 Pennsylvania Rd. was hostess to a swimming party July 12 at her home for Carol McGinnis, Debbie Dick, Barb Polka and Debbie Ledford, all of Romulus.

Miss Denise DeLanges of Miraleste, Calif., is spending time with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Glaab, on Hannan Road. Denise will be a high school junior this fall.

Sunday visitors of the Pete Glaabs were friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tank of Ecorse; also their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hengstebeck and baby daughter of Kalamazoo.

DUSTING FOR PRINTS — Wayne County Sheriff's identification technician Henry Hammond checks for fingerprints on a cache of marijuana that was seized yesterday by the sheriff's at Metropolitan Airport. The 20-pound cache was taken from the trunk of a car after the sheriff's drug-sniffing dog, Bomber, had ferreted the drugs out. The value of the marijuana was estimated at $6,000.

Pre-trial exam set for man, 25, in marijuana case

A pre-trial examination has been set for today in 34th District Court for a Lincoln Park man charged with a violation of Michigan's controlled substances act.

William Swinea, 25, of 2324 Minnic, was arrested Wednesday afternoon at Metropolitan Airport by Wayne County Sheriff's deputies after he allegedly picked up a box filled with 20 pounds of marijuana from the REA express office.

Swinea stood mute at his arraignment Thursday, and Romulus Judge James B. Stone entered a plea of not guilty in his behalf. Swinea was released on $2,500 bond.

Sheriff's deputies said they had the express office under surveillance for two days before the cardboard box containing the drugs was picked up.

The marijuana was sniffed out by the sheriff's trained narcotics dog, Bomber, a German shepherd.

The street sale value of the haul was estimated at $6,000.

Park program slated

A presentation will be made tonight in Wayne on the proposal to expand the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park system which will be on the Aug. 8 ballot.

Sponsored by the Lions Club of Wayne, the presentation will be made by a member of the Citizens Committee for Continuing Progress in Recreation.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. at Seit's Restaurant, 1609 N. Wayne Rd., Westland.

The presentation, highlighted by a 20-minute color film, illustrates the programs at the six major HCMA sites plus three smaller parks.

On the Aug. 8 ballot will be a proposal to increase the 1/4-mill property tax that finances the HCMA to 1/2-mill.

Belleville woman gets Army promotion

Mary J. Berryman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Berryman, 22655 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, recently was promoted to private pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic training at the Women's Army Corps Center, Ft. McClellan, Ala.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under the army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees. The promotion was based on her military bearing, leadership potential and scores attained during the training.

Pvt. Berryman received her training with company F of the WAC Training Battalion. The private is a 1971 graduate of Huron High School, New Boston.

The Unlimited Credit Card

Some people can produce a credit card for any purchase imaginable. But, they're still in the minority. Because, fully 60% of Americans still rely on that old standby, cash, to pay bills and make purchases. And, why not? It sure saves on interest charges.

If you're one of the hardy cash-and-carry breed, you might be interested in WSB checking accounts. You keep all the advantages of cash... and pick up a couple of extras.

For example, WSB checks are good everywhere. So, you're not limited. You can shop anywhere you like. Then, you don't have to carry large amounts of cash. And that's a relief, right? And you can pay bills by mail. That saves on gas and personal wear and tear. Plus, there are receipts and monthly statements, to make things easier at tax-paying time.

Look into the many checking programs offered by WSB. Unlimited credit cards... for people who like to pay cash.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

"Charity begins at home" is a vastly misused, misunderstood slogan for the reason some people don't realize what charity really is. Charity is not merely giving goods or money to the needy. Such gifts, without love, are merely contributions, a self levied donation. Charity is love. (Ask any clergyman) When you define charity as love, the "Charity begins at home" is an indisputable truism.

Love is silencing the tongue instead of throwing a temper tantrum. Love is being patient, even when another's tongue lashes out. Love is sealing the ear to rumors and scandals. Love is consideration of others; a "do unto others" attitude. Love is courage in showing by example a "do as I do" pattern of living, instead of the dictum of "do as I say, not as I do".

When "Charity begins at home" is thought of in this way, the words of Samuel Johnson are especially meaningful — "It is a most mortifying reflection for a man to consider what he has done, compared with what he might have done." And he might very well have added, the place to start reflecting is right at home...

'Think small'

"Think Small," a project designed to promote safety of small children, has the whole-hearted support of the Romulus Jaycee Club.

The Jaycees have ample supplies of bumper stickers, displaying a small child and the slogan, "Think Small."

Anyone desiring to help promote child safety will be given the bumper sticker merely by contacting any Jaycee.

The project is sponsored by Security Bank & Trust Co. and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

NASA representative to address banquet

A representative from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will be the featured speaker at a dinner July 28 in honor of William (Bill) Balogh.

Balogh, a former Western Wayne County area aviation writer and photographer, is seriously ill with glaucoma and cancer. He is hospitalized at Wayne County General Hospital.

The dinner, sponsored by the Skywatch Club of Detroit-Metroplitan Airport, will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn just north of the airport.

Tickets, available for a $10 donation, may be obtained from ticket chairman Garth Pearsall of Delta Airlines, any ticket counter at the airport, local chamber of commerce offices and program chairman Lothar Konietzko at The Daily Eagle.

Balogh, 56, was a charter member of the Skywatch Club and known for his activities in connection with private and commercial aviation and aerospace programs.
